

GERMANS CEASE DIRECT DRIVE IN THE WEST

LARGE EMINATION OF SERVICE LIMITS IN ATLANTA COUNCIL

Councilmen and Aldermen Far More Valuable After Two Terms' Experience, Asserts Ashley in Supporting Change.

CHANGES ARE FAVORED IN BOND ISSUE LAWS

Charter Committee Wants Two-Thirds of Those Voting to Decide Election. "Baby Bond" Plan Also Recommended.

If the plan of Councilman Claude Ashley, as approved by a majority of the members of the charter revision committee of council Monday afternoon, is adopted, councilmen and councilmen will be permitted to retain their respective offices just as long as their desire to hold such positions coincides with the wishes of the majority of voters. Changes in the city's bond issue laws so that two-thirds of the vote cast would carry a bond election, and changes in street paving laws to place this work on a cash basis were also recommended.

Councilman Ashley's ordinance aims to eliminate the constitutional and charter restriction that now limits the service of aldermen and councilmen to two successive terms, but would permit them to hold office from term to term indefinitely if the voters so expressed themselves at the polls.

In speaking in support of the change Councilman Ashley said he believed that it takes at least two years for a councilman or alderman to become familiar enough with the city government to be of any real service to the citizens, but after they have served several times their experience makes them invaluable.

Prevents Political Machine. Councilman Dillon argued that the present arrangement of limiting the service of councilmen and aldermen to two terms each prevented them from building up a political machine that would enable them to graft on the public funds and called attention to a number of northern cities where graft charges had been made and sustained in which there are no restrictions on the number of terms a councilman or alderman may serve.

The matter will be taken up at the next meeting of council, where it will no doubt arouse a great deal of discussion, but it is supporters believe it will receive a favorable vote and the state legislature will be asked to have the constitution amended that all restrictions as to the length of service of the city's law-makers will be removed.

Another change proposed for the city charter, which received the favorable support of the charter revision committee, calls for a physical examination of all applicants for a salaried position under the civil service of the city government, unless the applicant waives to the effect that in case of physical disability they will not demand a pension from the city. This ordinance also specifies that any employee who was over 25 years of age at the time he began working for the city shall not be placed on the pension list until he has been in the city service continuously for twenty-five years, and adds other restrictions to prevent the city's pension list growing to a point where it would be a drain on the city to pay the pensioners.

If council agrees with the charter revision committee, the state legislature will also be asked to grant the city the right to have its bond-voting laws so changed that two-thirds of the votes will carry a bond issue measure instead of the present plan, which requires two-thirds of the registered voters.

The proposed ordinance to alter the city charter so that a municipal court could be established by favorable action of the mayor and city council was voted down and will be adversely reported to council.

Crowds Thrilled By Tense Scenes In Great Picture

Tears and Cheers Greet Dramatic Moments in "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," Which Opened the Week's Engagement at Rialto Monday.

HOURS FOR BIG FILM. It is particularly advisable that those who wish to see "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," at the Rialto this week, take careful note of the hours at which the picture starts. A great part of the interest in this film is lost unless seen through from the commencement. The hours announced at 11:00 a. m., 12:30, 2:00, 3:30, 5:00, 6:30, 8:00 and 9:30 p. m.

There is a certain limit to the amount of applause which any public presentation can bring forth, and the great motion picture, "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," reaches that limit throughout its presentation.

When a great audience is moved, it gives expression to its emotions by means of applause—up to a certain point. Beyond that certain point the emotion roused is too deep for applause, and the noise of handclapping and cheers is replaced with a tense silence and sharp intake of breath as the hands clench and the throat contracts and the eyes grow misty with tears.

When the German officer, who has been seen in the picture, is shown in the morning, there was a good crowd in the house, and shortly after every seat was taken. For the rest of the week it will be advisable for those who wish to be sure of seeing the picture to come at the hours when the picture starts and when the largest proportion of the audience is leaving. These hours are 11 a. m., 12:30, 2:00, 3:30, 5:00, 6:30, 8:00 and 9:30 p. m.

It would be hard to conceive of any audience more visibly moved than were those in the theater on Monday afternoon. A glance over the sea of faces as the writer walked up the aisle showed tens of expression that boded ill for the Boche when the American boys got at him. As the German troops occupied Louvain, as the family of the Belgian blacksmith met the tragic fate of the God of War decreed, people edged forward to the front of their seats. Stark reality was driven home to the heart, and a little stonographer, who was writing the scene, burst into the third finger of his clenched left hand, unshamefully wept when the German officer, who had been seen in the picture, was shown in the morning, there was a good crowd in the house, and shortly after every seat was taken.

The Crowd Goes Wild. The punch in "The Kaiser, the Beast of Berlin," is in the second reel and grows stronger right to the close. When the captain of the Kaiser's Palace Guard strikes his royal master on the jaw, because of the intolerable insults heaped upon him by William Hohenzollern, the crowd was wild. The interest grows throughout the entire film, until at the close, when the Kaiser is shown in the shadow of his fate, the audience is so moved that they are given way to triumph, the picture is a masterpiece of the kind that every man, woman and child in the audience would have chosen.

The allied nations and is turned over to the people of Belgium as their prisoners. He is carried away to the front, and his troops and taken to Louvain. And there—But go and see for yourself. The picture is a masterpiece of the kind that every man, woman and child in the audience would have chosen.

As to the passage in the manuscript note of Count Revetara, where he says he acted for Austria to obtain from France peace proposals, the solicitor's text is authentic and Count Czernin is not dared to dispute it.

"To hide his confusion he tries to maintain that the conversation was resumed at the request of M. Clemenceau. Unfortunately for him, there is a fact which reduces his allegation to nothing, namely, that Clemenceau was not in the city on November 10, 1917 (that is to say the day after the armistice) and that he was not in communication with the German government from the time of his predecessor, For Count Czernin is in contention to be true M. Clemenceau in question before he was premier. Thus, Count Czernin is categorically contradicted by fact."

Thus, Count Czernin is categorically contradicted by fact."

WASHINGTON PLANS FOR TRAINING HERE OF TWO DIVISIONS

Present Barracks Construction at Camp Gordon Will Run at Least Mile North in the Direction of Doraville.

TENTED CAMPS WILL SOON BE ABANDONED

It Is Highly Probable That Camp Wheeler, at Macon, Will Not Be Used After the Exodus of the Troops Now There.

By J. A. Holloman. Washington, April 8.—(Special).—As a result of the war department's plan to do away with all tented camps after the present exodus of men, Camp Gordon will be doubled in capacity and will be made a two division training camp for selectmen. It was learned here today from an authoritative source.

Camp Gordon and Camp Jackson, at Columbia, will be used as concentration points for assembling soldiers and supplies before embarkation. It is stated, and the present barracks construction at Gordon will be run at least a mile further north in the direction of Doraville.

War plans are, of course, frequently changed overnight to meet changing conditions, but it is believed that proposed plans affecting Camp Gordon will not be altered.

In connection with the plan to do away with tented or national guard camps it is highly probable that this means the abandonment of Camp Wheeler at Macon.

Some of these national guard camps, it is true, will be utilized under replacement plans. For instance, there will be an ordnance camp at Hancock, while other national guard camps will have, grilling, hospital units. Some such use may be found for the Macon camp, but nothing to this effect has been yet announced, as has been done in the other cases.

The war department has decided, however, that in so far as possible soldiers shall not be forced to spend another winter under tents.

Outrages of Huns Shown in Address Made to Red Cross

Stirring Speech, in Which Cruelty of Germans to Captured Women Is Depicted, Made by Dr. Esther Clayton Lovejoy.

"There is only one thing worse than death for a man—to live to be old without having done anything worth while; but for a woman to live to be the mother of a Hun and the grandmother of a generation of Huns is worse than a million deaths—it is a living death."

With this statement and similar ones gathered from her experience at the receiving station of the American Red Cross at Avignon, France, Dr. Esther Clayton Lovejoy for two hours Monday held spellbound her audience gathered at the Red Cross hotel, composed of the representatives of the eighty Red Cross chapters in the southern division.

The luncheon at which, Dr. Lovejoy spoke was the social feature of the sixth conference of thirteen district conferences.

Dr. Guy E. Snively, director of the bureau of development for the southern division, then introduced the principal speaker, Dr. Lovejoy, one of the leading physicians of the west, her former home being Portland, Oregon.

German Is in Trouble; He Has Won a Battle But Not a Campaign

And Nothing Less Than a Campaign Can Satisfy His Needs—Chances of Winning Are Not Improving. Unless He Wins Soon, He Must Explain to Public.

By Frank H. Simonds. New York, April 8.—(Special).—The German is in trouble. He has won a battle and not a campaign, when nothing less than a campaign can satisfy his needs. His chances of winning the campaign are not improving visibly as the days go by. He has his old Verdun timetable before him, and he cannot get new confidence, although he does discover old parallels for new difficulties. He attacked at Verdun on February 21, 1916. He attacked before St. Quentin March 21 of this year. On March 9 of 1918 he was not anxious about his own home public that he advertised a capture of Fort De Vaux on the strength of the fact that he expected to take it that day. He did not take it until June 7, and on March 11 he had to invent a victorious French counter offensive to explain why the French were still in the fort.

He must be having something of the same difficulties with his public today, for they were even more expectant of quick success than ever before the other offensive.

Very Much Like Verdun. Now, the offensive is a far greater affair than the Verdun attack, but it strongly resembles it in many respects. At Verdun Falkenhayn sought to drive a wedge between the French armies in Champagne and those in Lorraine, roll the Champagne armies back on Paris and the Lorraine armies from the border fortress. This is exactly what Hindenburg was after with respect of the British and French armies in the present campaign. On February 26, six days after the beginning of the Verdun adventure, the German had to give up the larger purposes of his Lorraine attack. On March 26 of this year he had to stop in the same fashion. Before Verdun he gave Peain a chance to get up the army that saved the fortress. In Picardy he has allowed the French and British time to get up all their available reserves and dig in on new lines.

Before Verdun, the German center made tremendous gains in the first rush; after the first rush operations were suspended in the center until the Germans could get rid of the flanking fire from Dead's Man's Hill and Fort De Vaux. He spent all March, April and May in eliminating these flank difficulties. By the time he was ready to go on in the center, the Russians had attacked in Galicia, and the British were about ready to attack in Picardy.

The German had to continue at Verdun because he had spent a year in concentrating material and guns at this point. He was bound to attack with the hope of crushing the French before the British were ready and he could not prepare to attack anywhere but at Verdun in less than six months. When a high command had directed all its resources to a single sector for a grand offensive, it must continue on that front or abandon the offensive everywhere for that period of weeks and even of months.

German Bound to Attack. Today the German is bound to attack, because if he does not attack, the American numbers will presently give the allies a decisive advantage on the west front. He would seem to be compelled to attack in Picardy because over many months he has prepared his attack on this front, but in Picardy

BROWN IN CHARGE OF PUBLIC HEALTH $250,000 IS READY FOR COUNTY ROADS

U. S. Surgeon Relieves Dr. R. M. Grimm, Who Has Done Splendid Work Here—New Commander Outlines Plans.

Dr. Benjamin W. Brown, a surgeon in the United States public health service, has arrived in Atlanta to assume command here, relieving Dr. R. M. Grimm, the past assistant surgeon, who has been in command since the opening of the federal health office last August.

Dr. Brown comes to Atlanta from Charlotte, where he has had charge of the public health service about the same of Camp Greene, and where he accomplished a most effective work toward making the city safe for the soldiers and the city citizens of the North Carolina city.

Dr. Brown commends the great work of Dr. Grimm has already accomplished in Atlanta, and expresses the hope that he will be allowed to remain in the Atlanta office, although nothing has been indicated by the treasury department yet concerning Dr. Grimm and his location in the future.

Safe for Soldiers. In a short talk with a reporter Monday afternoon Dr. Brown said that it would be his purpose to make Atlanta a place absolutely safe for the soldiers and for the people who live here. "We are going to press a campaign here against disease that will not only make your city a safe place for the soldiers to visit, but that will educate your citizens to demand the improved sanitary and hygienic measures that we know to be best for the country," said Dr. Brown.

"We know that by eliminating the surface closet that furnishes a breeding place for which humans are in constant danger, we will eliminate typhoid fever, dysentery and other diseases. Our men are working to do away with breeding places for mosquitoes and that will solve the problem of malaria, another great source of danger to the army, and we are vaccinating against smallpox and typhoid so that we have them well in hand provided the people will get behind the movement to rid the community of closets that are not fly-proof."

"We are also interested in the social disease problem, which is one of the gravest menaces facing our army today, to say nothing of the serious aspect in regard to the home and business life. We are going to put on a campaign here against diseases of this nature, starting with an effort to educate the people to the use of the old-fashioned way of regarding matters of this kind unfit for public discussion."

Offer U. S. Co-Operation. "In our Atlanta campaign we are simply offering our entire force to the city of Atlanta, offering to act with the municipal health department in every way and to co-operate with your sanitary department to the utmost in making Atlanta a clean city," Dr. Brown touched upon the question of the milk supply of the city, saying that all milk should be pasteurized in order to make it safe for consumption. MARSHALL PLANS VISIT TO ATLANTA

Vice President May Speak Here in Interest of Third Liberty Loan on April 15, Massengale Wires.

While not definitely settled, it is probable that Vice President Marshall will speak in Atlanta on April 15 in the interests of the third Liberty Loan. St. Elmo Massengale, director of publicity, is now in Washington, and wires local headquarters to this effect.

Results of the first two days' work for the third Liberty Loan are such as to lead officials to believe that the sixth federal reserve district is going to roll up an oversubscription, which will mark an achievement of practical patriotism never before seen in any section of the country.

While it is impossible to give out figures for the total subscriptions received by Monday night, owing to the methods of announcing subscriptions, which have been adopted in Washington, nevertheless it is safe to say that the required daily quota has been comfortably exceeded to date. To secure the quota of $90,000,000, which has been set for this district, it will be necessary to receive subscriptions of $3,000,000 per day for each of the thirty days of the campaign. Many of the larger cities have not yet opened their active canvass for sales and are not expected to until after this week.

Week for Publicity. The plan adopted in Atlanta was to spend the first week in publicity work. The many posters which have been placed all over the city by the untiring and splendid efforts of the Boy Scouts, the newspaper advertising, and the speakers will have the first week during which to allow their arguments to sink in. Starting next week the corps of trained speakers will make their effort and it is hoped to complete the city's quota of $90,000,000 by the end of that time.

This plan has been adopted in many cities and, therefore, no reports have been made from these points as to the total subscriptions.

The two Liberty Loan exhibit trains are hard at work on their itineraries and reports from the officials in charge tell of the most gratifying results.

Eugene Harrington, chairman of train No. 1, which is now in Tennessee, wires from Nashville, Tenn., that the utmost enthusiasm prevails all along the route. He tells how at Chattanooga, Tenn., which was not scheduled as a stopping place, a thousand people held up the train and compelled a five-minute stop. Mr. Harrington says that it is absolutely unnecessary to worry either about the spirit of the people or the value of the train as a publicity medium.

George Lowman, in charge of train No. 2, which is now in Alabama, reports that despite bad weather, the entire population of Cullman, Decatur, Athens and Pulaski, Ala., turned out to greet them and that every town visited gives assurance that they will exceed their quota for the loan.

Hancock County's Claim. Hancock county, Georgia, is claiming credit as being the first county to secure double the quota assigned. The county's subscription, which was $181,000, while the quota was only $90,000, was secured by a subscription on Saturday alone.

County chairman and he has been assisted by Rev. W. S. Robinson. Many other counties are expected to continue to end in wires as to allotments filled and it is now certain that the total subscription for the loan for this district will be fully subscribed in a shorter time than was at first anticipated. It is also assured that there will be a substantial over-subscription to the loan and it is felt that this will mark as great a victory against the Hun as any thing that has yet happened.

Elmo Massengale, who wired late Monday afternoon that it is probable that Vice President Marshall will speak here also added that he has secured four additional Canadian officers as speakers for the exhibition trains. They are Lieutenants H. M. Moore and J. H. Hamilton and Majors F. S. Powah and A. M. McKenzie. All four are distinguished officers and splendid speakers.

Sousa's Band Coming. Word was received from Washington on Monday that the Sousa band, which is now in the Great Lakes Naval Training station at Great Lakes, Mich., is expected to arrive in Atlanta on Saturday, April 13, at 3:45 p. m. The band will be divided into four sections, each section to tour a part of the country. The sixth district is expected to be the first to receive the band. The band will come to this district on April 10, provided a committee be organized and it is probable that there will be no difficulty in doing this.

The library for Secretary William G. McAdoo's speaking tour of the south has been announced. He will not speak in Atlanta on this trip inasmuch as he was here only a few months ago. His itinerary is as follows: Arrive Savannah, April 10, at 8 p. m.; leave April 11, at 3:35 a. m.; arrive Jacksonville, April 11, at 3:30 a. m.; leave April 12, at 5:10 p. m.; arrive Pensacola April 12, at 4:15 a. m.; which are swept by rifle and machine gunfire and tempests of shells when enemy troops are seen forming for an attack.

There is a wholesome respect in the German general staff for the allied reserve army which, as yet, appears to have been drawn upon lightly to meet the Teutonic attacks. The attack on the French lines southeast of Chauny is for the purpose of removing a menacing salient and the gaining of better protection to the German left flank.

This assault is still going on and it has made considerable progress. The Germans struck through the lower forest of Coucy and have reached a point south of the village of Polembry. The Berlin official statement claims that 2,000 prisoners have been taken.

NO NEWS GIVEN OF AMERICANS.

Notwithstanding the statement made on Friday by Stephen Pichon, the French foreign minister, that "Americans now are fighting in Picardy," nothing definite has been learned about where General Pershing's men are located, or what part they are playing in this battle of battles.

On the American-held sectors near Verdun, east of Lunerville, and northeast of Toul, only ordinary trench activities have been reported.

Little has been heard from the Italian front. The concentration of Austrian troops in that theater of the war is considered warning that major activities may be looked for there, probably in the mountainous country, but there has been no indication that the Teutons plan to launch their attack at an early date.

Turkish troops are reported to be invading the Caucasus, where they will take possession of the territories which were given them under the peace treaty at Brest-Litovsk.

The landing of British and Japanese troops at Vladivostok seems to have been merely for the purpose of policing that city. No attempt by the Bolshevik troops to eject them have been made.

GERMANS POUND BRITISH FRONT.

British Army in France, April 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—Intense hostile artillery work has been proceeding at various points along the British battle front throughout the night and this morning. North of the River Scarpe and south of the Somme river German guns are conducting an unusually heavy bombardment, as heretofore has indicated an impending attack. No infantry action, however, has been reported up to 8 o'clock this morning.

From 8 o'clock last night until midnight the enemy heavily bombarded with gas shells the area between Cite St. Emille and La Bassée canal, in the Lens sector. The Germans also threw large quantities of gas shells of arsenite. The hostile artillery fire was above normal along the whole stretch of battle front north of the Scarpe.

Late last night the German guns also were very active in the area south of Villers-Bretonneux, below the Somme. Again this morning at 4:50 o'clock the German gunners opened a tense fire southwest of Hangard wood. About an hour later the hostile artillery broke out against the French front just south of the British.

Throughout Sunday the German cannonade was unusually heavy in the region of Arras.

GERMAN LOSSES AT LEAST 300,000.

With the American Army in France, April 8.—(By the Associated Press.)—An American officer who has just returned from the battlefields of northern France estimates that thus far the Germans have lost at least 300,000 men in killed, wounded and missing.

This officer formerly was in the British army, and is familiar with all the conditions.

FRENCH RETIRING FROM COUCY WOOD, GERMANS REPORT.

Berlin, April 8.—(Via London.)—The powerful German pressure along the Oise is forcing the French back at the lower outskirts of Coucy wood, according to the official report from general headquarters this evening.

"In continuation of our attack on the southern bank of the Oise, we drove the enemy out of his strong positions on the heights east of Coucy-le-Chateau."

The official communication from general headquarters today reads:

"On the battle front on both sides of the Somme the fighting activity remained limited to artillery duels. Local attacks by the British in Hangard wood and by the French near Gricourt failed with heavy losses."

"On the southern bank of the Oise our successes of Saturday forced the enemy to evacuate parts of his positions between Bichancourt and Barisis on the night of April 6 and 7. Yesterday we continued our attacks and threw the enemy back to the western bank of the Ailette, after having captured Pierremande and Folembray."

"Enemy columns retreating from Bichancourt along the Oise were attacked on the flank by our machine gunfire from the northern bank of the river and were shot down with the heaviest losses."

"Our troops, advancing on the eastern border of Coucy wood and by way of Barisis stormed a hillock northeast of Folembray and advanced as far as Vervault. The number of captured prisoners has increased to more than 2,000.

Captains von Richthofen achieved his seventy-seventh and seventy-eighth aerial victories."

FRENCH ADMIT LOSS OF GROUND.

Paris, April 8.—The war office announcement tonight says the day the enemy pressure continued north of the Ailette river in the region of the lower Coucy forest. The advanced sections of our troops resisted and hindered the advance of the enemy, who was in greatly superior numbers, inflicting upon him heavy losses.

On the Somme front, between Montdidier and Noyon, there was no infantry action, but the two artilleries displayed spirited activity.

In the Vosges an enemy attack failed north of Tete de Fauz. Eastern Theater, April 7: Patrol encounters took place along the Struma and artillery actions in the Vardar valley, the Cerna bend and north of Mostar. The enemy cantonnements at Demir Hissar were bombed by British airplanes.

The French day report said that violent artillery engagements occurred last night, especially on the right bank of the Oise river.

The statement follows:

"The night was marked by violent artillery actions, especially on the left bank of the Oise."

"French patrols were very active, bringing in prisoners."

"On the left bank of the Meuse, in the Argonne, German raids were repulsed."

"Everywhere else the night passed in quiet."

GUNFIRE HEAVY, BRITISH REPORT.

London, April 8.—"Except for hostile artillery activity on different parts of the battle front, and especially in the neighborhood of Bucquoy," says Field Marshal Haig's statement from France tonight, "there is nothing of special interest to report."

The day report said that on the southern bank of the Somme the British last night made a small advance.

The statement follows:

"We advanced our line slightly during the night on the south bank of the Somme, east of Valre-Sou-Corbie."

"North of the Somme a few prisoners and a machine gun were captured by us in the neighborhood of Neuville-Vitasse."

"The enemy's artillery has shown increased activity during the night on the whole British battle front. Heavy hostile gas shelling has taken place also between Lens and La Bassée canal and east of Armentieres."

Why the Easy Rolling Franklin is Outselling all Other Fine Cars

It has been said that "A striking picture is better than a thousand words."

Here is a picture that is better than a whole dictionary in enabling you to get at a glance the fact that the Franklin Car is easy to move—and hence, requires less fuel to move it.

This is an actual picture of the little daughter of W. J. Doughty of Detroit, pulling a Franklin Touring Car several blocks on a level stretch with her skipping rope, to show why the Franklin goes farthest on a gallon of gasoline.

The whole secret is in Franklin Easy-Rolling—one, big, fundamental reason behind the fact that sales of Franklin Scientific Light Weight Cars increased last year 135%, against the 12% increase of all other fine cars.

Easy-Rolling means minimized friction—and where there is little friction, less power is required to move a car. The Franklin is scientifically free from excess friction, drag and weight; it converts into sheer driving energy every ounce of power that the heavy car wastes in dragging 1500 pounds unnecessary weight.

It is a fact that the Franklin, on the same amount of initial power will coast farther than any car in the country—a direct result of its Scientific Light Weight, its Flexible Construction, its Balance and Resiliency.

That is why Franklin Cars deliver

20 miles to the gallon of Gasoline, instead of 10.

10,000 miles to the set of tires instead of 5,000.

This easy-rolling, light weight construction explains the Franklin qualities of easy handling—of instant responsiveness. It answers to the throttle quickly, speeds up easily and takes brake-application just as quickly.

Easy Rolling Means Easy Control

Light weight naturally means easy steering. Moreover, the caster-action front wheels and reversible steering gear allow the Franklin to keep in the course without tugging and to right itself without effort in taking corners.

This quick-response, easy handling quality indicates why the Franklin can travel long distances, frequently necessary in these times, without strain on its passengers and with minimum wear on itself and its tires.

Proof Within Your Reach

There is one thing that sticks out all over the motor car situation today. That is, a car must either be economically in tune with the times, or else pretend to be, by talking about it.

The difference is only discernible when you know the facts.

Franklin Facts are actual, tangible things, open to your inspection—short, straight and to the point. Drop in the Franklin Sales Room and get those facts. Examine carefully the #### Tire Mileage!

Franklin Light Weight and Flexibility always produced remarkable tire-mileage. 33 x 4½ inch cord tires now on all types assure even greater tire-reliability.

$50,000,000 ASKED FOR CONSTRUCTION OF CONCRETE SHIPS

Five Government Yards to Be Established, Three of Them at Points in the South.

Washington, April 8.—Fifty million dollars will be asked of congress tomorrow by Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, for development of concrete shipbuilding. The plan is to establish at once five government yards, two on the Pacific coast and three in the south.

Sites for the plants already are under consideration and will be announced shortly. The three in the south probably will include one already planned for Wilmington, N. C. Transportation facilities and easy access to cement and sand will govern the selections.

Tankers at First.
The first vessels turned out by the government yards will be 7,500-ton tankers, both because of the shortage of oil carriers and because in the present stage of concrete ship development the board is more confident of success with the tankers than with general cargo craft.

As yet, concrete ships are admitted frankly by experts to be "a gamble" because the behavior of such a vessel under load in a heavy sea is unknown. Success in the experiment is not guaranteed, but Mr. Hurley and General Manager Pies, of the Emergency Fleet corporation, hold that in the present emergency every possible means of adding quickly to the tonnage available for war purposes should be utilized. Greater chance of success is expected from the operation of concrete tankers because the liquid load will constantly seek a level and not entail the strain on the ship that a solid load would do in a heavy sea.

One Concrete Ship Ready.
The concrete ship "Faith," built on the Pacific coast for private account, is almost ready to undertake a voyage. Engines probably will be installed by May 1. Preliminary reports on the launching of the Faith have been very enthusiastic as to her possibilities.

Mr. Hurley, Mr. Pies and Mr. Wig conferred today at the capitol with Senators McCumber and Simmons, both of whom are understood to have agreed that experiments on a large scale with the new construction should be made as soon as possible.

The $50,000,000 requested will be spent almost entirely for ships, as each yard can be built for perhaps $25,000. The yards will have from four to seven ways each.

Locations in the west and south will be sought to avoid moisture and cold, which retard concrete pouring.

Plans for the new 7,500-ton vessel will be ready in six weeks. They will be equipped with oil-burning, reciprocating engines, capable of driving the ship seven or eight knots an hour, which is regarded as fast enough for coastwise and non-hazardous service.

OUTRAGES OF HUNS SHOWN IN ADDRESS

valueless. Then they are started on their three-day journey through Germany and Switzerland, and are then dumped on France at Avignon. In the last three years 350,000 have passed into France; 750 children have come in one shipment. Trainloads of insane have been sent in at one time.

Are Wonderful Women.
"These women, these mothers, are the most wonderful women in the world. They speak with pride of their sons and husbands who died for the death of honor on the battlefield; they speak with pride of the boys who are held in slavery behind the German first lines—but all speak hopelessly, with bowed heads, of their daughters who are held by the enemy—they will never come back, they will never come back. And these few women are only the echo of cry of their souls for their lost daughters."

"The honored dead are not the martyrs of war, and no nation can ever be conquered through her men and boys—but when a nation's women, her young women, are held in bondage and the most sacred right of civilization is violated as a part of the great Hun plan to infuse German blood throughout the universe, then and only then is there a chance to conquer—for woman has born within her the instinct to protect her young—even though it be at the expense of her own life. We cannot delay, we must put an end to this pagan curse forever—and do it soon."

"Human tongue cannot exaggerate the physical, mental, moral and spiritual suffering these repatriates have suffered. When General Pershing takes a German town, and he will before very long, I know he is going to say to these German women, 'Remain in your homes and you will not be molested.'"

Hold All Young Mothers.
"It is interesting to note that the Huns hold all young women who have only one child under 3 years of age. The Germans are not famous for handling a delicate situation, but in this case they do use a little delicacy. The invaders are probably the fathers of these children."

"The children who come into the receiving station are generally stunted from lack of proper nourishment. 'Give me liberty, or give me death' is the feeling of every man, woman and child in France, Belgium and Great Britain today."

"The American uniform means freedom from German oppression. The American uniform means financial assistance. This the French are too proud to ask for themselves, but for their children they ask food and clothing. In fact, the American uniform is very popular in France."

Dr. Lovejoy exhibited a "75" shell. "This," she exclaimed, "has saved democracy, and 90 per cent of these shells are manufactured by women. Women are good fighters—even outside the home."

She also exhibited a child's gas mask and a German shock helmet. The helmet had a bullet hole in it and Dr. Lovejoy said she was glad to see that the wearer was going the other way when he was hit.

Pledge Support to War.
This address by Dr. Esther Clayton Lovejoy on the war and the part the American Red Cross has played in the work of reconstruction among the French families who are being sent back from the occupied districts was interrupted frequently by applause and culminated in a resolution introduced by Mark McCulloch, of West Point, as follows:

"Whereas, we have heard the wonderful message from France brought to us by Dr. Lovejoy, we, the chairman of the Red Cross war fund committees of north Georgia, here in convention assembled, pledge our support to the war fund drive, and ask that our chairman wire President Wilson that we pledge ourselves never to rest until Georgia goes over the top."

At the request of Wickes Wamboldt, division campaign director, this resolution will also be sent to Henry P. Davidson, chairman of the Red Cross War Council; to Harvey D. Ghera, general manager, and to France, so that Dr. Lovejoy's fellow workers may see that she has brought the story of their work back to America.

Speaks at Mrs. Arkwright's.
Following the forceful and thrilling address made by Dr. Lovejoy, of the American Red Cross society, at the luncheon at the Wincoff, she spoke to sixty Atlanta women at the home of Mrs. Preston Arkwright Monday afternoon.

The message of Dr. Lovejoy is one that should be heard by everybody in the community, and it is a message that will bear fruit.

She is a noted woman physician, a patriot and a fine speaker, and the people of every community she visits should be given the opportunity to hear her.

It was a meeting preliminary to the campaign to be conducted in Decatur which contemplates a house-to-house canvass of the city to put over its quota of about $50,000 before Thursday night.

To vigorously push the campaign a chairman for Decatur and four vice chairmen as follows were appointed Monday night: Dr. R. F. Bakes, chairman; first ward, Dr. Andrew Slotted; second ward, J. A. Campbell; third ward, Guy Webb; fourth ward, A. L. Crim.

It is proposed to hold a mass meeting at Monday or Tuesday night with one of the returned wounded soldiers from France as the principal speaker, to celebrate the completion of the quota.

NEGRO ODD FELLOWS TO HOLD CELEBRATION

In accordance with the usage and custom of ancient times, the Odd Fellows and Ruths throughout the United States, the annual Thanksgiving will be held on the second Sunday in May. Religious exercises will be held in every town and county in Georgia, under the banner of the Grand United Order of Odd Fellows of America.

The lodges and ruths will turn out on that day and commemorate, in a befitting manner, the seventy-fifth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The Atlanta lodge will observe Thanksgiving with appropriate ceremonies.

E. J. Collier, president of the Atlanta joint Thanksgiving assembly, has issued a call for all lodges and ruths of the city to meet Sunday afternoon, April 14, at Morgan Williams hall, corner Parson and Chestnut streets, to make such preliminary arrangements as will be necessary to make the Thanksgiving day exercises a great success.

Senator Broussard Very Ill.
New Iberia, La., April 8.—The condition of United States Senator Robert F. Broussard, of Louisiana, tonight was declared "very serious" by attending physicians and belief was expressed that death was but a matter of hours. Senator Broussard has been ill here for several weeks.

GUESSES BARRELED ON LIBERTY LOAN

Estimates of Subscriptions Won't Be Given Out—McAdoo Insists on Actual Figures—This May Cause Delay.

SUBSCRIPTION BY WILSON
AT WASHINGTON THEATRE
Washington, April 8.—When subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan were called for at a local theater here tonight, the first subscriber was President Wilson, who occupied a box. Announcement that the president had taken $1,000 was followed by prolonged cheering.

Washington, April 8.—Estimates of daily Liberty Loan subscriptions will not be given out during the campaign by national district or local headquarters, under instructions issued tonight by Secretary McAdoo. Instead, the treasury will gather from each federal reserve bank figures on subscriptions actually filed with them, together with receipts from the initial 5 per cent payment, and a tabulation of these will be made public each day. Local committees may compile similar reports and subscriptions turned into local banks, and give out the results.

This method of supplying information on the day-by-day progress of the local campaign, adopted today by the treasury after long discussion, is intended to prevent the publication of inaccurate estimates which might be borne out by actual subscriptions. Secretary McAdoo requested newspaper and Liberty Loan committees to observe the new rule.

Statement by McAdoo.
Over the telephone from Richmond, Va., where he made his first Liberty Loan speech on a southern tour, the secretary authorized this statement:

"In order to remove the risk of inaccurate information and of over-anguine and misleading estimates concerning the amount of subscriptions to the third Liberty Loan, no figures will be given out for some days, and then only figures as the actual amount of subscriptions officially filed with the federal reserve banks. The danger of relying upon optimistic estimates and unofficial subscriptions will thus be avoided.

"This information will be made public beginning at an early date, when the department will be prepared to give accurate figures. After the plan has been developed, the federal reserve banks will report to the treasury department the amount of subscriptions actually filed, and those reports will be given out daily. The federal reserve banks will simultaneously announce the amount of such subscriptions officially filed in their own districts, and will permit local committees to announce the amounts of subscriptions officially filed.

No Unofficial Estimates.
The new arrangement renders valueless the system developed by the Liberty Loan organization after weeks of work, together from each city, town and county at the close of the day's soliciting, an estimate of subscriptions, which is then sent to the treasury. Those estimates were to have been collected by the publicity organization, and sent to the treasury and telegraphed to Washington to be made public here the following day.

During the second loan campaign these unofficial estimates were made public daily together with official reports of federal reserve banks, and the aggregate official figures ordinarily were about two-thirds of the estimates. This ratio continued to the last day of the campaign, but a week after the period closed final official figures announced were approximately the same as the earlier estimates.

If official reports are made at the same rate this time, the treasury's announcements will be from five to ten days later than the day's work they represent.

Officials explained that the danger of duplication, or "watering," in estimates, even if carefully made, arises from the fact that campaign workers report subscriptions which may be made payable through a bank. This bank in turn subscribes a lump sum to cover all the subscriptions it has pledged. Thus a pledge might be counted twice, and the aggregate of these duplications might result in a misleading showing for the nation. To believe that its loan subscriptions were far above what they actually totaled would have elements of positive danger to the loan's success, according to Secretary McAdoo and other officials who advocated the new procedure.

Protest by Newspapers.
Newspapers, which heard during the day of the plans for suppressing estimates, protested to the Liberty Loan organization, arguing that the estimates during the second loan were accurate, and that they had been substantially accurate. They suggested that psychologically the campaign propaganda needed prompt reporting of figures as well as accuracy.

These protests were met with the statement that the federal reserve banks probably would be hastened under the new procedure. By the latter part of the work, the treasury expects to give its first official report on subscriptions. These probably will be far above the first week of the second campaign, since officials declare the competition brought by the holding of the honor flag to communities has stimulated early canvass work.

Officials today gave word that an attempt was being made to commercialize the honor flag idea, and that flag manufacturers were soliciting orders for large quantities of the specially-designed banners. This was met by a warning from the treasury that the flag has been copyrighted and can be obtained legally only from the Liberty Loan organization. The copyright was obtained by J. H. Burton, a New York man, who originated the honor flag idea, and immediately assigned the copyright privileges to the government.

Many Communities Claim Honor.
About sixty additional communities reported today they had subscribed their quota and won the flag, making more than 300 names on the honor roll in the two days of the campaign. Among those reporting today were: Georgia—Spauld county, Vernon district, Troup county, Long Cane district, Troup county, Bethel community, Turner county, Rebecca, Turner county, fifty cities and counties reported oversubscribed.

Louisiana—Iverville parish, East Carroll parish, Tensas parish, Franklin parish, Concordia parish, Mississippi—Christian.

Oklahoma—Kingfisher county, Coal county, Texas—Carron county, Liberty county, Brooks county, Smith county, Carson county, Kieburg county, Wilbarger county, Stephens county, Rust county, Jim Hogg county, Comal county, Arkansas—Piggott.

Secretary McAdoo today named April 21 as Liberty Loan Sunday, and in a letter to 114,000 preachers asked that special sermons be preached on that day.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement today urged workers to subscribe generously to the loan, even if it meant great sacrifices, and to "do all that you can for the common cause of democracy and freedom of the world over."

SOME FEEL MOST BY SEDITION BILL

Amendments Designed to Permit Legitimate Criticism Adopted—Hardwick Is Sharply Rebuked by Poindexter.

Washington, April 8.—Another day of live-fire debate on the sedition bill, which would punish disloyal utterances and attempts to hinder the war effort, ended tonight with amendments designed to permit legitimate criticism adopted. Senator Hardwick of Idaho, who had proposed amendments to the bill, was sharply rebuked by Senator Poindexter of Colorado, who offered an amendment to provide that such acts should be "willful," and Senator Borah of Idaho, who proposed to substitute the word "intended" for "willful." There were objections to the amendment, but it was adopted.

Hardwick and Poindexter Clash.
Senator Hardwick, of Georgia, who led to a controversy between the Georgia senator and Senator Poindexter of Colorado, proposed that the words "cause of the" should be eliminated from the latter's amendment. Senator Poindexter, of Colorado, offered an amendment to provide that such acts should be "willful," and Senator Borah of Idaho, who proposed to substitute the word "intended" for "willful." There were objections to the amendment, but it was adopted.

Senator Sherman, of Illinois, took occasion to denounce the recent action of a German at Collinsville, Ill., a "disgrace," and criticized town officials for failing to protect the mob. He urged that the language of the bill penalizing "contemptuous and scurrilous" criticism should apply to disloyal utterances only, and said Assistant Secretary of Labor Post and George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information, in the past had written articles severely criticizing the American form of government, which would be punishable under the measure as now drawn.

Senator Gallinger, the republican leader, also urged that the prohibition should be limited to disloyal utterances and suggestions, and that the clause might be construed to prevent legitimate criticism of the president in the senate. He introduced a substitute bill embracing his ideas, but it was not taken up.

Senator Sherman, of Illinois, said that the measure, to secure unanimous consent for a time for a final vote of the United States, "eliminated from the original draft, now were reinstated, such criticism as had been experienced."

He added, however: "I believe that when we are engaged in war that anybody who uses such language against the president ought to be punished. I believe it is just as offensive and disloyal to use such language against the president as to use the same kind of language against the form of government. I believe it would be a better bill if the president were included."

Saloon Closed Before Lynching.
Collinsville, Ill., April 8.—Commenting tonight on the statement made in the senate today by Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman, of Illinois, regarding the lynching of Robert Prager, enemy alien and disloyalist, police officers asserted that the saloons here were closed for an hour prior to the lynching.

Senator Sherman asserted that the lynching was accompanied by a drunken mob masquerading under the guise of patriotism.

It was said, however, that rumors were current that the mob had been recruited from saloons both here and at Maryville, four miles distant.

According to reports, Prager had been warned to stay away from Maryville. He left when the attitude of numerous miners became threatening and came to Collinsville. Several miners followed him, it is said, and in a saloon on the edge of Collinsville, he told the patrons of Prager's alleged disloyalty. The men are said to have gone shouting up the street, gathering recruits from every saloon. By the time the city hall was reached a crowd of 350 or more had assembled.

Inquest Being Held.
Mayor J. H. Siegel, of Collinsville, was the principal witness here today as the coroner's inquest into the death of Robert P. Prager.

The inquest which opened today was held in the city hall. It was learned that the mayor told the inquest that he had been informed that Prager had been removed from the city hall by the police because it was feared he might suffer violence at the hands of the mob. He said he told the mob that Prager had been removed and that when he opened the door with the intention of admitting one of the members for the purpose of searching for the prisoner, the whole mob rushed in, found Prager and the lynching followed.

At the close of the hearing today it was announced that no session would be held tomorrow, but that hearings would be resumed Wednesday.

PARIS JEWELERS SELL PEARLS IN GERMANY
Paris, April 8.—Nearly 100,000,000 francs worth of pearls have been sold in Germany, through agents in Switzerland, of Parisian jewelers, according to a Geneva dispatch to The Petit Journal. The Germans sought and, but for the timely judgment of their authorities, would have succeeded in cornering the Paris and London market in pearls after the war.

The clandestine trading, the dispatch adds, has been going on unhindered since 1916. All intermediaries are said to have been known to the Swiss police, who were astonished at the ease with which they were able to purchase stones in Paris.

A Paris dispatch on April 5 said that 18 Parisian diamond dealers were under prosecution on charges of trading with the enemy. They were said to have sold precious stones to Germans through Swiss agents.

GERMAN IS IN TROUBLE; FACES ANOTHER VERDUN

his difficulties are tremendous. He has a desert behind him; he has a swamp about him and in front of him his enemies strongly entrenched on the high ground and in positions which they have held for two weeks.

If you look at the map you will see that the French are substantially holding a line behind the Ancre river and the British another line behind the Ancre, and these lines form an acute angle with the vortex in front of Amiens. If the German keeps on going towards Amiens, he will be slaughtered by the converging fire from the Douaumont plateau at Verdun by the converging fire from Dead Man's Hill and Fort de Vaux. The solution of the problem must be found in breaking through the sides of the angle. This is what the German has been up to for a week. He has been hurling masses of picked troops against the French lines along the Ancre, suffering tremendous losses and making no gains at all. He has not yet got his heavy artillery up and cannot do so until he has cleared the way by the use of his own heavy artillery.

Must Break Sides of Angle.
On the map the Germans look desperately near to Amiens, but they were six miles nearer to Verdun on the 26th day of February, 1918, and in the next six months they only advanced a mile and a half.

Unless Hindenburg can break the sides of the angle, the German offensive in Picardy will be stopped. To break the sides the Germans must sacrifice many thousands of men as they sacrifice other thousands on the Meuse. All French strategy now must be comprehended during the British were the German until the British were ready. The allied strategy now must have a similar direction and an identical purpose.

Meanwhile, the German has got to explain to his public why he has not won the war in his first battle, why he has not won the war in his second battle, or an Isonzo. He has not won the war in his first battle, why he has not won the war in his second battle, or an Isonzo. He has not won the war in his first battle, why he has not won the war in his second battle, or an Isonzo.

and the allied public avoid too great optimism. There will be other counter-attacks. There may be other retreats. The allies will sell ground at a high price and retire at many points. Their force some time would seem to wear out the fury of the German attack as Pétain would it at Verdun. Now yielding, now counter attacking, now standing firm, keeping the Germans occupied, exacting tremendous sacrifices and waiting for the time when new armies and fresh reserves will permit the allies to take the offensive.

All that is vital now is that there should not be a breach in the allied lines and a new separation of the British and French armies. Even the fall of Amiens would be of minor importance now if this did not happen.

Beginning of Another Verdun.
We seem to be at the beginning of another Verdun, with greater stakes, vastly greater forces engaged and a far wider front involved—but the problem seems the same. The German has pushed into a salient and between the French and British armies. He can not hamper his way through at the point of the salient, but must break down the sides and so far all efforts have ended in complete defeat.

As for the slight advance of the German on Sunday, south of the Oise, this does not seem to be a threat to Paris as was reported, but rather a retirement of the French line, made necessary by the German advance north of the Oise river. The French have struck out over time and hold a strong position, while the character of the country would seem to indicate a German thrust south toward Paris along the east bank of the Oise river. The true pathway to Paris lies west of the Oise, but it does not seem to be Paris that the German is thinking of just as the French armies are not his objective. He is endeavoring to separate the British and French armies and roll the British back on Calais and Boulogne. But he is not making any progress in this direction and has made no material progress since the end of the first week.

Healthful Beauty in Woman Is More Charming Than "Camouflage"

Good Blood the Foundation of Clear, Soft, Smooth Skin.

"Beauty is only skin deep and ugly goes clear to the bone," is an old saying and one that certainly is true in a good many cases; but all men and women will admit that the beauty of a clear, smooth, healthful skin is far superior to the "camouflage" kind made by covering disfiguring pimples and other evidences of impure blood with powders and paints.

These pimples and blotches which mar a great many faces that would otherwise be good to look upon, are far worse than mere looks would indicate, for they are positive evidence of conditions that bring premature wrinkles and gray hairs, and undermine the health until all the charm, vigor and personal force is lost beyond recall and beyond "camouflage."

Thousands of beautiful women today are so because they have realized the importance of keeping the fountains of beauty—the blood—pure and free from disease breeding and life destroying impurities, acids and poisons. Thousands retain the prestige and pleasure that comes from this possession by the use of S. S. S., known and acknowledged to be the greatest, the surest, and the most effective beauty tonic and blood purifier in the world.

Another fact of importance to women all over this land is that they do not have to guess or experiment in this matter, for the S. S. S. treatment is recommended by a great institution which maintains a department for giving all sufferers expert advice free of charge. This great benefit is held out to you. Write a letter today giving your symptoms, and your special case will receive attention. Address: Chief Medical Advisor, Department K, Swift Specific Co., Atlanta, Ga.—(adv.)

TAX RECEIVER

der the Dent law, it was announced Monday at the state department of agriculture, where information has been gathered for the use of farmers throughout the state, who have been dubious about the working of this law.

Here are some of the things the government must know before it gives the applicant so much as a consideration for furlough:

Questions to Be Answered.
Name.
Rank, organization and present station.
Location of farm on which soldier is desired for work.
Name of owner or tenant of that farm.
Kind of farm.
Number of persons normally employed there.
Number of males above age of 14 now working there.
Acreage of farm and acreage under cultivation.
Crops to be grown this year and approximate acreage of each.
Number of horses on farm, cattle, hogs, sheep.
Market value of farm, of its last year's production, or of its anticipated production, of its machinery.
Soldier's farming experience.
What wages will he be paid?
Is farm labor reasonably available in that vicinity?

Local Board's Queried.
All of this information will be obtained by the government through local boards to whom application has been made and is included in the answers to a questionnaire prepared under the provost marshal general's order.

This questionnaire or form can be secured by each applicant at the local board. And it is not necessary that the application be made by the soldier himself, it may be made by a relative. The application will be filed with the local board, which will then secure additional data from farm authorities of the county and forward the application to the soldier's post, camp or cantonment commander, where the soldier will be asked to sign his signature. If the furlough is granted, the application will be filed by the commanding officer and a certificate furnished the soldier to the effect that a furlough without pay or allowances has been granted for the time therein set forth.

This time, according to J. J. Brown, Georgia commissioner of agriculture, will be 80 days in many cases.

If the application for furlough is not granted the papers will be returned by the commanding officer together with his reasons.

Thousands of Applications.
It has been estimated that several thousand Georgia boys now in military camps will make application, either personally or through relatives, for release from the camps at which they are now stationed so that the planting and cultivation of a record food crop in this state shall not be hindered.

The pledge, which each soldier must sign when application is made by him or reaches him from his local board through some other person's efforts, is as follows:
"If the furlough here asked for is granted, I hereby engage to utilize the time of my absence solely and completely in farming, to work earnestly and well, and that if for any reason my service case is urgently needed before the expiration of my furlough, to report immediately for military duty at my proper post."
The affidavit in connection with these applications may be sworn to before a notary public, clerk or member of a local or district board, government agent, judge, advocate or postmaster.

Hurt Under Truck.
Waycross, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—Thomas J. Wilkerson, foreman for the Ice Delivery company of this city, was badly hurt late Saturday afternoon when he was run over by a heavy automobile truck.

At the time of the accident Mr. Wilkerson was riding his bicycle and turned into a street where a new ice plant and when he attempted to turn quickly in order to avoid a collision he was thrown from his bicycle, the truck passing over him, and while the injuries are painful and will keep him in for some time, they are not thought to be serious.

DECIDEDLY PLEASING IS WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE CONQUEROR"

By L. E. Winchell.
Decidedly entertaining and appealing is "The Conqueror," starring William Farnum, which opened the week at the Criterion theater Monday. The hero of the story, played by Mr. Farnum, is Sam Houston, an historical figure of the early days in Texas. The story itself relates an incident, or series of happenings in the life of this character, in which his love affairs form the principal theme. The picture abounds in spectacular scenes and another feature that pleases is the injection of comedy bits that greatly relieve the tension throughout the showing.

Mr. Farnum, by his forceful personality, dominates the picture and makes his portrayal of Sam Houston stand out as he always does. The part opposite Mr. Farnum is taken by Jewell Carmen, who wins favor with her artistic work as well as with her beauty. Special mention should be made of the work of Charles Barry, who is a leader of the bandits in this picture.

"The Conqueror" has an atmosphere that cannot fail to interest every screen follower. The story is set in one of the most fascinating periods of American history. The Indian episode, with thousands of Cherokee Indians, the quiet town of Nashville as it looked in 1820, the American settlement in Texas and the magnificent homes in Tennessee, where Houston finds his last love, all are charming scenes of the production.

From every angle the picture scores successfully.

In the meantime the weeds will grow as well as the vegetables and there will be enough work to be done to more than make up for the rest enforced by the rain.

Hand your figuring to a Dalton

Business is largely a matter of figures. The total figuring in any business, counted in hours, is amazing!

Save most of those hours, reduce the hour-cost, cut out mistakes—and you have real figure-efficiency—you reduce "overhead."

It's easily done. Turn your figuring over to a young girl with a 10-KEY DALTON. Don't spend dollar-an-hour time on a twenty-cents-an-hour job.

The 10-KEY DALTON not only adds—it subtracts, multiplies and divides—and lists every operation.

It's the speediest calculating machine made—and the simplest—because there's but one key for each figure.

The DALTON will figure pay-rolls, estimates, inventories, costs, trial balances, invoices—without errors and in record time.

Any one can use it—no experience or practice is necessary—just touch the keys of the number wanted, and the machine will do the rest.

And the 10-KEY DALTON can be operated by the Touch Method, without looking at the keys.

Two Good Things

The Camera-Gun. Photograph Your Bird Before You Shoot Him

THE expression, "take a snap-shot," becomes very real to the photographer who uses a new camera support recently invented by George Lansia. The support is made in the form of a gun. The camera is attached to the barrel in such a manner that in sighting the object to be photographed, just as a target is sighted with a rifle, the exposure is made by pulling a trigger.

The camera may be attached to a real gun instead of the support which looks like one. This arrangement will enable a hunter to photograph any bird or animal just before it falls a victim to his gun. Or, if the camera is equipped with a quick-action lens, the bird might be photographed at the instant it is shot, to test the hunter's accuracy.

GEORGIA WOMAN TELLS HER STORY

"I'm Well and Strong Today and Fifteen Pounds Heavier Than I Was When I Began Taking Tanlac."

"I'm well and strong today and fifteen pounds heavier than I was when I began taking Tanlac a few weeks ago," said Mrs. Leila Collier, 1340 Myers street, Augusta, Ga., some time ago. "For two years I had indigestion in its worst form and could eat nothing without suffering dreadfully afterward. Food would form gas in my stomach and swell me up until I could hardly breathe. The pains it caused in my chest and stomach were almost more than I could bear. No one seemed to know what was the matter with me and no treatment gave me any relief. 'I wouldn't take anything you could offer me for the good Tanlac has done me! The improvement it has made in me is wonderful. I can eat anything I want and enjoy it, my stomach is in splendid condition, the pains are all gone from my chest and stomach and I feel like a new woman out and out.' Tanlac is sold in Atlanta by Jacobs' Pharmacy Co., and by one regular established agency in every nearby town. (adv.)

Can Atlanta Afford It?

To the Public:

The stockholders' committee of the Georgia Railway and Power Company desires to call your particular attention to its statement of a self-evident fact, that—

This company cannot furnish service at less than actual cost and live.

Either it must have income sufficient to meet its operating expenses, its fixed charges and its taxes, or one of three things must happen:

1—It must curtail its service to a point where its return will meet expenses; or,

2—It must be taken over by the government—and it will be, if it becomes necessary, because of its activities bearing on war work—when rates would be at once increased to a point sufficient to meet all essential requirements; or,

3—It must go into bankruptcy, which would mean both service elimination and increased rates, and, what would be equally unfortunate, a blow at the business activities of Atlanta and North Georgia, from which they would not soon recover.

In all earnestness, we ask, can Atlanta afford it? Can she afford any one of these contingencies, and least of all that which would reflect both upon her prosperity and upon her own good name?

What are the facts? In 1917, as we have already shown you, this company expended in this community for operations, taxes, fixed charges and improvements which were essential to the public service it is required to give, one dollar and fourteen cents ($1.14) for every dollar it took in as gross income.

Think about that. Suppose the grocery merchant, the department store, the baker were called upon to do that—how long would they live?

The company, of course, had to borrow that money—the difference between income and expenditure—a total of $1,143,- 622.03. It must be paid back. How can it be paid except through income? And if income fails to meet the obligation, there remains only—Bankruptcy.

Have you, the people of Atlanta, ever stopped to reflect what the bankruptcy of the Georgia Railway and Power Company would mean to you, not to speak of those 1,050 Georgians who have their savings invested in it? Have you thought what it would mean, not simply in curtailment of service and increased cost, but in direct, we may well say, disastrous effect upon your business prosperity—upon the good name of your city abroad?

Again, we ask, can Atlanta afford it?

We are asking for this company, in order to insure the continuance of its good service to you, only what 473 other communities in the United States have within the last four months, willingly and readily accorded to public utility companies serving them—rates sufficient to meet the higher cost of producing service.

For Atlanta's sake, for your own sake, we ask you earnestly to think upon this indisputable statement of the case:

The same economic laws that apply to the price of bread, apply to the price of public utility service. The fact that the state assumes the right to regulate public service rates, will in no way prevent disaster if, in exercising the power, it puts the price below cost. The people of Atlanta are squarely and fairly confronted with the destructive alternatives we have pointed out, or an increase in price commensurate with the cost of doing business.

The people of Atlanta believe in fair play. We have no fear of that. We shall put the case clearly before them, confident of the result that their good judgment cannot fail to dictate.

THREE PROMINENT MEN OF PIKE ARE STRICKEN

Barnesville, Ga., April 8.—(Special.) Hon. B. S. Aklin, tax equalizer for Pike county, died suddenly from heart failure on Sunday morning. Mr. Aklin had been active in making funeral arrangements for Howard Harrison, who was stricken with paralysis while driving in his buggy on a country road. He was found dead beside the buggy where he had fallen on Saturday. At the time of his death Mr. Harrison was on the way to visit his brother, Jack Harrison, who is also suffering from a paralytic stroke at his home near Zebulon, Pike county. This series of tragic seizures among prominent citizens of the county has brought general sorrow to the community.

the encouragement of the community, regardless of color.

The negroes have proven their loyalty to the government throughout the period of the war, and this parade will afford only additional demonstration of their devotion, patriotism and willingness to serve.

For that reason, and because of the splendid spirit the negroes as a race have shown from the beginning of the war, this movement is receiving the support of the whole city.

The governor and the mayor have both assured their support, even to the extent of requesting all employers of negroes to give them a half holiday that day in order that all who can possibly do so may participate in the parade, thus making the demonstration as impressive and as representative of the negro strength of the community as possible.

The public will be glad to get behind this movement in order to make it thoroughly representative, thus helping not only the negroes, but the city as well, and above all, helping just that much to win the war.

MISS SMITH'S RESIGNATION.

Typical as it is of the general regret occasioned by the voluntary retirement of Miss Laura M. Smith from her position as supervisor of the primary department of the Atlanta public school system, the expression of the negro teachers, appearing in another column of this page, is significant of the esteem in which Miss Smith is held by teachers, pupils and parents alike, of both races.

Some time ago, with the view of reorganizing the primary department of our school system and putting it upon an up-to-date basis, the board of education canvassed the whole country in search of the most competent woman to be found for that work.

It happened to find at the University of Chicago precisely the woman wanted. And it happened that she was a Georgia woman—a graduate of the Georgia State Normal school at Athens. Subsequent to her graduation she entered the service of her alma mater as a teacher, where she made such a splendid record that she was taken to Chicago. Her name is Miss Laura M. Smith.

She came from Chicago to Atlanta and took up the work of reorganizing our primary department, revolutionized it, displaying heart, interest, skill, ability, proficiency in every move she made.

But never at any time did she receive aid or encouragement from the finance committee of council, that body, in fact, refusing her even the clerical and office assistance that she required, and out of a meager salary, Miss Smith herself paid for such help as was actually indispensable for the successful operation of her department.

Time and again the chairman of the school board begged and entreated the finance committee of council to sustain the board in its request for funds so urgently needed in Miss Smith's department, but the antediluvians prevailed, and Miss Smith was at last literally choked out, finally tendering her resignation and accepting an offer from the American Red Cross society to undertake the educational reorganization work in behalf of the children in the devastated regions of France.

Here is a woman of great tact and peculiar ability as a teacher and department executive, who was selected from among all of the primary department specialists in America to come to do a much needed service.

And now Atlanta gives her up solely because of the miserly, miserable, parsimonious financial policy under which the city is being run—a policy that let her go on, paying out each month a portion of her own inadequate salary for clerical and other help that she had to have, and then, when the burden became greater than she felt justified in continuing to bear, council lets her go rather than to pay the few paltry dollars that was necessary to retain her invaluable services for the little boys and little girls of Atlanta!

For shame on such a policy!

Flower Sown Vimy

By Julia Collier Harris.

(For The Constitution.)

(Just a year ago, April 9, was fought the battle of Vimy Ridge. Both Canadians and Huns suffered terrible losses on this gun-swept, blood-stained territory. Yet, according to news stories, within a few months flowers had blossomed to hide the shell-torn soil, and the awful relics of the heroic dead.)

Today the flowers on Vimy bloom

Where yester-month the cracking gun

Spread death and terror roundabout.

Shrouding with smoke the sun.

These tranquil slopes, with blossoms sown,

Erstwhile were swept by seas of blood;

Here under leaden skies men lay,

The culture's rotting food.

And faraway, hearts steeped in woe,

Lament their cherished dead in vain,

Whilst glimmering on the greening ridge,

The pale moon, mocks their pain.

But paler far than rising moon,

And stamped with war, accusing stare,

The faces of sad women gleam.

Ghost-like, athwart the air:

Mothers and wives of Vimy's dead,

Whose dragging days are void of joys,

Whose nights are filled with anguished dreams

Of Vimy's slaughtered boys.

War comes and goes: its flaming years

Consume earth's human yield;

Man perishes, and o'er him waves

The flower-sown battlefield.

Beautiful Dances to Demonstrate Important Work Done by Y. W. C. A.

As plans for the physical demonstration that is to be given by the Y. W. C. A. at the Auditorium-Armory Friday night, April 19, are announced, the interest increases in knowing the personnel of the different physical educators and the work of the different organizations which they represent.

Under the leadership of Miss Katherine Moore, physical director, the physical department has reached in 1918 a perfection plus in the number of 400 women, girls and children enrolled, most of whom will take part in the big municipal physical demonstration. On the night of the Y. W. C. A. part in the program will be an aesthetic dance, a folk dance, and lastly an Indian club drill. The aesthetic dance is "Fashion's Caprice," the costumes of the thirty girls taking part to be of white tulle, with their dainty white satin toe slippers.

English Folk Dance. The second dance to be "We Won't Be Home Till Morning," an old English folk dance, by Cecil Sharpe. The twenty-five girls taking part will be dressed old English style, with high waists, long skirts and pantalettes; also wearing white caps. The Indian club drill will be given as a feature of the Y. W. C. A. gymnastic work, the girls taking part representing every club and class of the Y. W. C. A. gym. Fifty girls will swing their clubs, giving the audience a clear demonstration of what the club exercise means to the physical well-being of the school girl, the leisure girl and the business woman.

The gymnastic work of the Young Women's Christian association in the Arcade building is corrective, educational and recreational.

The corrective work is a special work given by the correction of physical defects, such as curvature of the spine, flat foot, building up frail bodies, correcting round shoulders, developing flat chests, etc.

The educational work trains the girl's mind to concentrate, giving her the ability to work and play with others as well as to have an understanding of the value of physical training.

The recreational features teach the girl to play with a purpose, giving her a clear knowledge of the value of recreation as well as a healthful understanding of her own rights in fair play as well as the rights of others.

Miss Moore's Good Work.

Miss Moore, and her assistant, Miss Helen Leedham, had their training in the Chicago Normal School of Physical Education. Until this year Miss Moore has had entire charge of the Atlanta Y. W. C. A. gymnastic department, but the work has grown to such proportions that Miss Leedham was recently called from Iowa to Atlanta to serve as Miss Moore's assistant.

Miss Moore, according to Y. W. C. A. experts, has exemplified the value of giving to each class the training that answers the needs and requirements of the class. As an illustration, business girls and women do not take the same class work that Miss Moore gives the High school girls or the leisure girls. The little girls from 6 to 10 years play their games with a purpose, following a training schedule that is outlined and followed by their instructors up to the girl's physical perfection in womanhood.

Patrons of Moreland Avenue School Protest Purchase of Present Site

There was an overflow meeting of indignant residents of the ninth ward, who have children attending the Moreland Avenue school, in the school building, Monday night. The meeting had been called by the Parent-Teachers association to formulate a protest to the board of education against its action in arranging to purchase the present building and lot now used for school purposes.

Resolutions were unanimously adopted that the present building is unfit for school purposes and no part of it can be adapted for permanent school purposes without great expense.

A committee, headed by Victor Kriegshaber, was appointed to meet with the school board in special session at noon today and protest vigorously against closing the deal for the present lot and structure as contemplated by the school board.

Another committee was appointed to look at other lots in the neighborhood of the Moreland Avenue school and see if a suitable one could not be obtained. There seems to be two lots, each of which have the approval of some of the residents. One of these is known as the Austell lot, of about four acres, which may be purchased for about $35,000. The other lot was referred to as the Austin avenue lot, for which a price of $12,000 was tentatively suggested, while there are still other lots in the neighborhood that would suit the parents of the school children and be suitable for school purposes that can be obtained at different prices.

The matter of selecting a lot was made secondary to the protest against using the present lot and school. Members of the Parent-Teachers' association, say the building now used is insanitary. They say there is a rank odor arising from the basement of the building, which is below the street level; that the building is rat-infested and thirty years old, and that at the meeting Monday night it was necessary to use coal oil lamps to furnish light.

It is understood that the members of the board of education are anxious to meet the wishes of the Moreland Avenue residents, but as they have only $20,000 with which to purchase a lot and build a school they say they will "have to cut the coat according to the cloth," and the best they have been able to do is to decide upon the present location, for which a rental is now being paid by the city. However, if the Parent-Teachers' association can recommend some other feasible plan, the board will be disposed to consider it carefully.

500 Boy Scouts of Atlanta to Act As Sanitary Inspectors This Summer

Following addresses Monday night by Dr. Percy C. Ahrons, a member of the staff of the public health service, and Chief Jentzen, of the city sanitary department, to the scoutmasters of Atlanta at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A., tentative plans were laid to add 500 more effectives to the forces of the health of the city by making every Boy Scout a sanitary inspector, clothed with legal authority to properly fill this office.

Dr. Ahrons told the scoutmasters that, with the great increase in population in Atlanta incidental to the establishment of Camp Gordon and other military agencies near the city, and with the thousands of soldiers who will visit the city continuously during the summer, when diseases likely to become epidemic are most prevalent, it behooves the agencies that can be most effective, and the most quickly effective, to get into action and thoroughly clean up the city and keep it clean to forestall the possibility of any outbreak in Atlanta.

Chief Jentzen said that his department at present has only 14 district inspectors to cover 26 square miles of territory, and that it is an absolute impossibility, with many people showing a reluctance to co-operate, to maintain anything like the proper sanitary regulations.

Then a member of the scoutmasters proposed that the scoutmasters and Boy Scouts come to the department's aid as volunteer sanitary inspectors. This suggestion met with unanimous approval, and the plan will be taken up next Friday afternoon at a meeting of the board of health when the question of the scope of this work and the proper authority for its accomplishment will be discussed.

Dr. Ahrons and Chief Jentzen are also working on a plan by which boys of the city's high schools will be asked to volunteer their services to aid the department on Saturdays. It is possible that Saturday will be designated as general clean-up day with the business houses of the city, and that the high school boys will be asked to co-operate with the sanitary department in the removal of the accumulations. They can be of great service to the city in this respect since the sanitary department is said to be at present short 58 men, who are badly needed.

Georgia Voter Who Is Disgusted With Both Senators

Editor Constitution: Your editorial of yesterday under the caption of "Georgia Hamstrings" is very timely. I was not surprised to read in this morning's paper that during the discussion of the bill to punish secession Senator Poindexter asked if Senator Hardwick was asking for Georgians the right to espouse the cause of Germany.

The opposition of both our senators to all administration measures ever since the war commenced must have made loyal Georgians feel ashamed of them, and there is no state more loyal than ours.

Of the two, if I had to vote for either, I believe I would give it to Hardwick, for while I think he has been altogether wrong I must be admitted he has been open and above board. I do not recall a single administrative bill that Smith did not oppose and then vote for. This put him in a position

40 LOTS ARE OFFERED FOR CITY GARDENERS

All Applications Should Be Made to Atlanta Chamber of Commerce Committee.

The garden committee of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce has at its disposal more than forty vacant lots in various sections of the city donated by the owners to the great war garden movement in the city. No conditions have been imposed by the owners, and none will be made by the garden committee except that applicants must give assurance of proper cultivation.

The garden committee, of which E. M. Fisher is chairman, has completed a survey and made a list of every vacant lot in the city. With this information in hand he has looked up the owners of these lots, and by letter and telephone has gotten into communication with a large number, who readily consented to donate the lots for war garden purposes and to cooperate in other ways. In a few instances the owners have had the plots plowed.

Some of the garden patches offered in the war cause are large enough to grow more than a year's supply of vegetables for the largest family in the city, with some to spare for winter canning. The smallest lot on the list is sufficiently large to supply the average family.

The following lots lying in six wards of the city may be secured for cultivation by applying to room 314, Chamber of Commerce building, or for information, telephone Ky 6338.

PAULIST CHORISTERS TO SING HERE MONDAY

The Paulist Choristers, one of the foremost male choirs in America, will be heard in Atlanta on next Monday evening at the Auditorium. The concert is to be held under the auspices of the local council Knights of Columbus.

The local and national war activities of the Knights of Columbus such as entertaining the men in uniform, defraying the expenses of the special buildings in the army camps, their secretaries and chaplains, will be benefited by the concert, as will also the French restoration fund.

The choir is composed of nearly a hundred boys and men, and contains some of the foremost talent in the country. The present tour has been met with wide success in many of the leading cities of the east. In Boston the choir was hailed as the best that has been heard in that city. Included in the singers are several voices of unusual note, especially Billy Halliday, a marvelous boy treble soprano, who is the wonder of all his audiences.

SECRET SERVICE PROBES GROUND GLASS REPORTS

Presence of Glass in Foodstuffs Accounted for Satisfactorily in Nearly Every Instance.

That Atlantans are alert to the Potemkin propaganda, espionage and general German frightfulness is daily made apparent by the number of reports that are received by secret service men, deputy marshals and other federal officials in the postoffice building.

Inspector Bailey, of the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the department of justice, has been called upon almost daily during the past two weeks to investigate reports of ground glass being found in foodstuffs. Each of these cases has been carefully investigated, but in almost every instance the presence of the glass was accounted for satisfactorily.

Several excited persons have taken glasses of jelly to the secret service men, but in every instance of this kind, except one, it was shown with the aid of a magnifying glass that the glass had found its way into the jelly when the metal top of the jelly jar had been fastened on. In the exceptional case, a hundred cases of jelly consigned to a camp were held up because what appeared to be fragments of glass could be seen when the jars containing grape jelly were held to the light.

A sample of the jelly was sent hurriedly to a government chemist for analysis. He put the jelly through a mesh that held back the fragments. These, he found, readily dissolved in warm water and further tests proved them to be nothing more dangerous than sugar crystals. Incidentally, his test proved that the jelly was pure and his report so stated. The jelly manufacturer has been offering a big some of money for this report which he wants to use in his newspaper advertising, as he feels that the government's statement that his product is pure would be the best kind of testimonial he could have.

During the last ten days at least a hundred people have sent messages to the bureau of investigation and secret service officials telling them of the erection of a "mysterious" wireless apparatus in the very heart of the city, right under the noses of the police. The first of these reports came a couple of weeks ago to the site of the wireless in a hurry. Sure enough, they found a complete wireless outfit of standard government pattern, but they also learned that it had been put there by the United States signal corps as a test station.

Government officials rather welcome these reports of alleged Hun activities and no matter how wild or far-fetched the rumor seems to be they make careful investigation of it, as they feel it is better to thoroughly investigate a hundred cases thoroughly and find a cause for alarm than to miss a single opportunity of catching one Hun at some act of frightfulness.

58 STARS CONTAINED IN BIG FLAG RAISED BY KAPPA PSI FRAT

The members of the local chapter of the Kappa Psi National Medical fraternity raised a service flag at their chapter house at 10 Spruce street last Saturday afternoon after the third Liberty Loan parade. The flag contains 58 stars, representing that number of members of Rho chapter in the medical school of Emory university who are now in the service of the United States army medical corps, the United States navy medical corps and the United States public health service.

In addition to the physicians listed below, there are about fifteen undergraduate members of this local chapter who are enrolled in the reserve corps of the army or the navy medical corps, and who will be called into active service as soon as they complete their courses at the medical school. The following are represented on the flag:

County Thrift Heads To Meet in Savannah Wednesday Morning

A conference of county directors for thrift and war savings stamps in south Georgia counties will be held tomorrow morning in Savannah for the purpose of speeding up organization work and completing plans for a great intensive thrift stamp drive which will be launched throughout the state immediately following the close of the third Liberty Loan.

J. T. Rose, executive secretary to Hugh Richardson, state director of thrift and war savings stamps for Georgia, will represent state headquarters at the meeting, which will convene at 10 o'clock in the Hotel Savannah.

Thrift stamp forces throughout the state are working in perfect harmony with the Liberty Loan forces in obedience to the request of Secretary McAdoo, who recently issued a formal statement explaining that neither movement interferes with the other.

JACOBS AND BRANNEN LEAVE FOR NEW YORK

James Jacobs and T. H. Brannen left the city yesterday for Philadelphia and New York and other eastern markets where they will spend the next ten days in arranging for import orders of new goods and fresh stock for the holiday trade for Jacobs' Pharmacy. Mr. Jacobs and Mr. Brannen will make an exhaustive investigation in all markets for the purpose of obtaining for the nine Jacobs' Pharmacy stores in Atlanta the very best available goods in every line which this company handles. Purchases will be made both to supply immediate needs and for the coming fall and winter season.

COAL STATEMENT OF THE DEALERS TO THE PUBLIC

The public too well remembers the condition that existed during the past winter and to prevent a repetition of these conditions, the Fuel Administration has deemed it necessary to promulgate regulations governing the distribution of coal for the coming year. These regulations have been promulgated with the idea of seeing that each and every person is supplied with their necessary requirements and to prevent hoarding; or, in other words, to secure the widest possible distribution of all coal that is produced.

Regulations governing the distribution are as follows:

- Until further notice no domestic consumer of coal or coke shall purchase, receive, or otherwise take possession of more coal or coke than is required for his actual and necessary requirements prior to March 31, 1919. If such consumer already has a quantity on hand, he shall receive only such additional amount as shall make up his actual and necessary requirements prior to that date.
- No person, firm, association or corporation, whether acting alone or in conjunction with others, shall directly or indirectly, provide any domestic consumer of coal or coke with more coal or coke before March 31, 1919, than is necessary, with the amount already on hand, to meet the actual and necessary requirements of such consumer prior to that date.
- On and after April 1, 1918, no person, firm, association or corporation shall sell or deliver coal to a domestic consumer who does not first furnish to the person selling or delivering such coal, a statement which the consumer declares in writing to be true, and which specifies (1) the amount of coal the consumer has on hand, (2) the amount of coal he has on order and the name of the person from whom ordered, (3) the amount of coal used by him in the twelve months ending, March 31, 1918, and (4) the amount of coal needed to meet his actual and necessary requirements prior to March 31, 1919; provided, however, that this regulation may be modified by any State Fuel Administrator within his own State under such circumstances and conditions as he may deem proper.
- On and after April 1, 1918, and until further notice, no retail dealer shall, unless authorized by the State Fuel Administrator, deliver or cause to be delivered to any domestic consumer more than two-thirds of his normal annual requirements of anthracite coal until each domestic consumer who has placed his order with said dealer and is willing to receive delivery of the same has received two-thirds of his normal annual requirements for the year ending March 31, 1919; provided, however, that orders of six tons or less may be filled in full.
- Carload or barge load lots shall not be delivered to a single domestic consumer or to a group of consumers, except with the permission of the local Fuel Administrator.

In order that the Local Fuel Administration may have as complete control of the distribution as possible, there has been established in the Peachtree Arcade a central office for the compiling of the records necessary under these regulations. However, as a matter of convenience to the public, the dealers have been furnished with a supply of the certificate forms and may accept consumers' certificates at their offices or yards, and then have their representative place the same with the Fuel Bureau, instead of it being necessary for you to come direct to the Bureau if that is not convenient. However, their object in having the central office is to have one full and complete record so that any complaint or information can be handled without delay.

As coal cannot now be purchased from the mines on the same terms as in the past, together with the increase in the cost of labor, feed, wagons and harness, and all items entering into the expense of delivery, the dealers are forced to place the business on a cash basis. To do business on the old basis of solicitation and carrying accounts, without question would entitle them to an increase in margin; therefore, an increase in the price to the consumer. Under the present conditions we believe that it is the duty of every line of business to name a price just as low as they can and to do that, it is necessary that the operation of the business be on a minimum expense basis. Cash is the only basis on which each and every consumer is on an equal basis.

The Official Certificate Form to be signed—as referred to above—is given herewith:

IN ACCORDANCE WITH REGULATIONS OF THE UNITED STATES FUEL ADMINISTRATOR, PURCHASERS ARE REQUIRED TO MAKE TRUE DECLARATION IN ANSWER TO THE FOLLOWING QUESTIONS:

Name of Dealer .....
City ..... Date .....
Quantity required for year ending March 31, 1919.....
Quantity desired for immediate delivery.....
Quantity consumed during year ending March 31, 1918....
Quantity now on hand .....
Kind of Building .....
Number of Rooms .....
Kind of Heating Plant .....
Have you any unfilled orders with other dealers? If so, amount and with whom.....

I HEREBY CERTIFY THAT THE ABOVE STATEMENTS ARE TRUE TO THE BEST OF MY KNOWLEDGE AND BELIEF.

Name .....
Address .....

Any person who wilfully makes a False Statement upon the foregoing application is subject to Prosecution under the Lever Act, which imposes a penalty of $5,000.00 fine or two years' imprisonment, or both.

This statement is given to the public that they may be fully advised of the true facts and urged to co-operate with the wish of the government that everyone secure as early as possible their supply of coal for the coming season.

Bad Weather Halts Camp's Work For the First Time Since Winter

TRI-STATE SELECTMEN NOW BEING EQUIPPED

Organization and Drilling of New Men Begun in Earnest
This Week.

Since officials of Camp Gordon's receiving station have been able to announce late last week that the entire contingent of 6,000 selectmen called into the national army from Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee have reported, considerable attention has been directed to the new men, and steps are now being taken to provide them with their preliminary training.

The 4,000 negroes who answered the recent call and came to the camp have been assigned to various colored training battalions in the 15th Depot brigade, and the white men have been organized into companies in the casual detachment of the same brigade.

This week the uniforming and equipment of the new troops became the main thing of interest to the officers who are in charge of them, and the warehouses on Jackson avenue were open throughout Monday, issuing a steady supply of clothing to the waiting embryo soldiers.

Drilling the men is also receiving the attention of the officers over them, though this phase of work has been somewhat interrupted by the bad weather of Sunday and Monday. On fine days, however, the camp parade field literally awarms with small units in civilian clothing, and it is stated that the new selectmen are making rapid progress with their training.

Officers continue to state that the last call has resulted in securing the finest soldier material of the south has yet offered Camp Gordon. The 2,000 tri-state selectmen are a fine lot of specimens of the best fighting material of developing into splendid fighting men.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! If tongue is coated give "California Syrup of Figs."

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste, and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother. If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the fool, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the stomach, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good internal cleansing should always be the first thing given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a doctor's visit tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here and there. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."—(adv.)

Delay in Training of Men Slight—Indoor Work Is Stressed—Some of Roads Near Gordon Getting in Bad Condition, But Reconstruction Is Rapidly Progressing.

For the first time since the prolonged season of rain and snow during the winter, Camp Gordon is laboring under weather conditions other than warm, sunny times typical of "the Sunny South."

Under the rainfall of the past two days the entire reservation is drenched and dripping, and once again the mud is coming into its own. Some delay is resulting from the bad weather in the training of the forces of the division, and officials are again being forced to resort to indoor schools.

In order to preserve the health of the men, as little outdoor work as possible is being done, and other than the necessary formations in the open are being avoided in a large degree.

The roads in the vicinity that have as yet received no attention from the constructing forces of the camp, are getting into bad condition, and automobile traffic over them has perceptibly decreased.

Sufficient reconstruction work has been done, however, to insure the road conditions from ever being as serious as they were during the winter, and no time in the future is there any danger of traffic being cut off from the camp.

The road from the front of the camp to Chamblee has been opened up in part, and it is one of the finest stretches of highways in the state. Though it has received no covering of asphalt, the road from Norcross crossing to Duval bridge on the north side of the railroad tracks has also been opened and is being used by considerable traffic that does not have to pass through the worst section of the camp.

Officials are also progressing as rapidly on the grading and paving of the Candler road, and it is stated that this will be opened in the course of a short time. When the completed work on the Peachtree road will commence.

Florida People Will Oversubscribe Quota,
Says H. N. Randolph

Florida will undoubtedly oversubscribe its quota of the third Liberty Loan, according to Hollins N. Randolph, well-known Atlanta attorney, who returned Monday from Tampa, where, by special invitation, he addressed the Bankers' Association of Florida, speaking on the measure which congress passed, taking over the railroad of the state.

"I found Tampa," he said, "and, in fact, every section of Florida, where I visited, in a state of patriotic and enthusiasm over the third Liberty Loan. On Saturday afternoon more than 20,000 people thronged the streets of Tampa, observing or participating in the Liberty Loan parade."

On the past ten days Mr. Randolph has been traveling in the southern states in the interest of war work, and he states that the level of patriotism of the people in war activities is remarkable.

Among the Jewish Men

Regular Friday night service was resumed last week at "Y 151," where the usual crowd of young men, children of all ages and grown-ups printed

feits sold here and there. Get the

To wind up the Passover festivities
the Jewish welfare board distributed 75 pounds of candy among the boys who attended the service last Friday evening. The candy was the gift of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brooklyn branch of the Jewish welfare board.

Photographs and reports describing the way the Camp Gordon Jewish men celebrated Passover in Atlanta, appeared in nearly all the Jewish dailies in New York.

In connection with its religious activities, the board is distributing some twenty thousand Bibles and twenty-five thousand prayer books. This distribution is made on the basis of the census recently completed by its representatives in the different camps.

Dr. L. B. Bernstein, one of the field secretaries of the board, is expected in Atlanta during the week, and arrangements are being made to give him an opportunity of meeting as many of the boys in camp as possible.

The Jewish welfare board is now extending its activities among the Jewish men in the navy. At their recommendation, Rabbi David Goldberg has been commissioned chaplain and assigned to the United States ship Grant.
Chaplain Goldberg is in charge of all religious and recreational work, and at his suggestion the board compiled a list of the mess room of the United States ship Grant with every possible form of recreational accessories.

At the opening of the first interde-nominational church recently dedicated at Camp Upton, General Johnson, in his address to the congregation, said:
"You will be shoulder to shoulder with your comrades in Europe some day. The Jew will lay down his life for the Gentile, the Catholic for the Protestant. War does not allow the petty creeds of men to divide men."
Rabbi N. Blechman gave the benediction.

STUDENT-OFFICERS ON SHORT LEAVES
RETURN MONDAY

The members of the third officers' training camp who were graduated last Friday and were given short leaves of absence, yesterday reported back to their old organizations in the 82d division, and will at once return to the old routine program of work for the division.

Among the men returning Monday were a large number of the college men who were allowed to enter the school.
These were also assigned to various units in the division to follow their fortunes until the need arises for their services as officers.

COLORS PRESENTED TO 121ST INFANTRY

In Presence of Many Middle Georgians, Regimental Colors Given to Old Second Georgia Regiment by Mrs. J. Y. Swift.

Macon, Ga., April 8.—(Special).—In the presence of a crowd representing sixteen cities and towns in middle Georgia, the colors purchased with a fund raised by popular subscription were this afternoon presented to the 121st Infantry, formerly the Second Georgia regiment, at Camp Wheeler.

The ceremony was impressive, the formal presentation being made by Mrs. J. Y. Swift of Elberton, to whom is due the credit for raising the fund for the purchase of the flag.

The presentation took place on the regimental drill field with Colonel W.
F. Jones, of Elberton, making the formal address of the occasion.

Previously the various delegations of maids and sponsors and other visitors had been formally welcomed to the city by Alderman B. J. Dasher, acting for Mayor Glenn Toole, who was unable to be present because of the fact that he was busily engaged in looking after the Shriners who were here for their ceremonial session.

A unique feature of the ceremony was the presentation of Benjamin Frut-tal, of Griffin, the oldest surviving member of the Griffin company.

The maids and sponsors, headed by Miss Alberta Thomas, of Macon, regimental sponsor, were grouped about the speaker during the presentation, and later a buffet supper was served at the mess hall of the various companies and later a buffet supper was served in their honor at the home of Mrs. Walter D. Lamar. Mrs. M. M.
Stapler earlier in the day was the hostess at a luncheon in honor of the visiting women. Tomorrow morning
Mrs. C. B. Lewis will give a breakfast for them.

The largest delegation for the presentation today came from Elberton, there being close to one hundred from that place. Other places represented were Albany, Griffin, Barnesville, Portway, Milledgeville, Winder, Americus, Monroe, Columbus, Jackson and Hartwell.

82D NOW FULL-FLEDGED FIGHTING DIVISION

Arrival and Assignment of 3,700 Trained Troops Brings Unit to War Strength.

The Eighty-second National Army division at Camp Gordon is now filled to full war strength.

This fact is evidenced by the arrival of approximately 900 trained troops from Camp Travis, Texas, and 2,800 similarly trained men from Camp Caster, Iowa, during the latter part of last week.

Prior to their arrival officials at the camp stated that the war department was making the transfer in order to bring the Gordon division to its war strength, and now that the movements have been completed, the Eighty-second has become a "fighting" division.

The new arrivals have been assigned to various organizations of the fighting forces of the division, and are rapidly becoming accustomed to their new surroundings. They are all anxious to fight and give promise of making highly efficient soldiers.

VOCATION EDUCATION FOR INJURED SOLDIERS

Washington, April 8.—Reclamation of men injured in the military service by providing for the vocational education at government expense, is proposed in an administration bill introduced today by Senator Smith, of Georgia. The bill would appropriate $2, 500,000 for the work.

Smoked mussels are being used extensively for food in Holland. The mussels are said to have found favor among the Dutch consumers, and in view of the dwindling supply of food they are welcome additions to the staple supplies.

General Hemlick Turns Down Offer to Hold Division Review

Gordon Forces Will Not Stage Formal Parade This Week as Thought Probable—Strict Inspection of Men and Equipment Continues Monday.

Brigadier General D. A. Hemlick, of the inspector general's department at Washington, refused the tender made by officials of the Eighty-second division and will hold no review of the division this week.

This fact was announced Monday by officials at Camp Gordon's headquarters, who added that the reason for the refusal of the inspecting official is probably that he does not wish to cause the delay in training that would be necessitated by the staging of a formal review.

The announcement will not only be of interest to soldiers of the division, but also to civilians in Atlanta, who have made plans to see the division again in full review. It was thought that the review would be held early this week, and in the event that it had occurred civilians would have been invited to attend.

General Hemlick, in company with the two officials of the inspector general's department, has been at Camp Gordon the past several days making a thorough inspection of the men and equipment power of the entire division. It is expected that he will require several days longer to complete his work.

The visiting official spent the entire day Monday in going through the bar-

MISKE'S VISIT TO CAMP NOT YET MADE DEFINITE

Place Will Be Provided for Exhibition—Many Gordonites to Attend Atlanta Fight.

Although no definite engagement has yet been made by Gordon athletic officials and the local promoters for the appearance of Billy Miske, celebrated heavyweight boxer, to appear at the camp, it is sure that the contender for Jesse Willard's crown will visit the camp and, if possible, will put on an exhibition for the men.

The fact that the afternoons of the soldiers are filled and Thursday night is largely devoted to religious programs, no place has yet been obtained for the exhibition, but athletic authorities of the camp are as anxious to have Miske come out as he is to visit the camp, and it is stated that in all probability the difficulties will be overcome and a place provided for the show.

Miske will arrive in Atlanta Wednesday night, and on Friday night will meet Gunboat Smith, ex-navy heavyweight champion, at the Auditorium in Atlanta. A large delegation of Gordon soldiers is already assured for the bout, indicating that the largest crowd from the camp that ever attended Atlanta boxing will be present.

GEORGIA FARMERS NOW AT THE CAMP TO GET FURLONGS

Announcement was made at division headquarters at Camp Gordon Monday morning that Georgians who are now engaged in agriculture but who are called to come to the cantonment within the next month or two, will have a chance to secure furloughs for an indefinite period. Hundreds of letters of inquiry with regard to furloughs have been received at headquarters during the past few days.

The commanding officer, however, allowed to grant furloughs when it appears that it will not interfere with the training of the organization to which they belong. No furloughs will be granted to enlisted men of or above
the rank of sergeant.

When their furlough overseas duty comes all selectmen will be ordered back to their organizations.

away all visitors will be barred from the camp, with the exception of those visiting sick soldiers at the base hospital. Two mounted patrols will be maintained throughout the camp under secret orders of the division commander.
The commander of the trains of field artillery, has been designated provost and fire marshal, and will be in charge of the camp during the week.

Tomorrow night the division will camp at Camp Harris Wednesday night at Jackson's Mill. Thursday night at Echeverria, and Friday night they will be at Camp Harris again. Saturday they will return to Camp Wheeler, and will probably pass through the business portion of the city again, though there will be no formal review at that time.

HE IS DELIGHTED AT THE RESULTS

George A. Thurmond, Popular Atlanta Man, Relates How Plant Juice Has Benefited His Stomach Trouble.

Thousands of people in Atlanta are needlessly suffering from disorders of the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys.
Relief is near at hand, and is in the reach of everyone.

Many have found quick deliverance from their suffering by the use of Plant Juice, the herbal stomach remedy now being introduced at Jacobs' Pharmacy, 6-8 Marietta street, in Atlanta, which is composed of a combination of roots, herbs, bark, berberies and fibres of medicinal plants, that are essential to health. That is why it regenerates the blood supply, overcomes rheumatism, eliminates car-cins and puts the system in condition to digest the food properly.

That this is proven conclusively it is only necessary to listen to the statements made daily by well-known Atlanta people who have given Plant Juice a fair trial. It has been benefited and respected by a large circle of friends who will be glad to learn of his improvement.

"I had recently heard Plant Juice so enthusiastically praised that I decided to try it. I had been unable to find anything to help my stomach trouble. I have been a sufferer for years and it finally began to affect my entire system, my food fermented and formed gas in my stomach which caused me a great deal of pain and while I was not sick enough to go to bed, I was always miserable and had that 'tired-out,' 'run-down' feeling.
I have been taking your medicine, Plant Juice, only a short time, and can truthfully say that so far the results are just splendid and am glad that I began to take Plant Juice."

Plant Juice is a particularly effective in relieving all diseases of the stomach, which are so prevalent. Any one of the following symptoms may indicate stomach trouble: indigestion, dyspepsia, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, nervousness, flatu-lence, fermenting of food, constipation, dizziness, headache, backache, dizziness or that "tired-out," all "run-down" feeling.

The Plant Juice Man is in Atlanta at the Jacobs Pharmacy (Main Street), 6-8 Marietta street, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the benefits of Plant Juice. Free samples given.—(adv.)

Rain Prevented
Game With Griffs;
McClellan Next

Locals Go to Anniston
Wednesday—Play Camp
Gordon at Poncey Saturday—Tickets on Sale
Thursday.

The weather man has been rather unkind to Clark Griffith and his Washington Americans. They were scheduled to play the Chattanooga Lookouts in Chattanooga on Saturday and Sunday, but old J. P. interfered.

Returning to Atlanta Monday morning they found him still raining (reigning), and the pastime scheduled for the afternoon with the Crackers was called off.

The Griffiths spent the day taking in the movies. We found Walter Johnson and Harry Harper looking over Bill Hart at the Forsyth theater during the afternoon.

Shay Looks Good.
Walter Shay, the young Tufts college shortstop secured by the Crackers upon the recommendation of Connie Mack, was out in uniform Monday. He's a stocky-built chap about on the order of Kid Caton, of Birmingham. He's full of pep and hustle.

Despite the rain, the Crackers worked out twice, warming up under the grandstand, and engaging in bunting games, putting in a double workout period of about two hours each.

Play in Anniston.
The Crackers will leave here tonight for Anniston, Ala., where they will play the Camp Gordon team on Wednesday afternoon.

There will be thirteen players in the party, headed by pitcher Billy Smith and umpire Scotty Chestnut.

The following players will make the trip: Outfielders Moran, Infielders Shaver and Strat, Infielders I. Thrasher, Shay, McDowell and Munch, Catchers Pielich and Engel, Pitchers Elliott, Thorburn and Lynch.

Each of the pitchers will work three innings each. Thrasher will play centerfield in Mayer's place, and I. Thrasher will play third base in McDonald's place.

The following players will work out Wednesday at home: Pitchers Brennan, McGuire, Engel, Weston, Outfielder Mayer, Infielder McDonald.

Tickets on Sale.
Tickets for the opening game of the season, one week from Thursday, will go on sale downtown on Thursday.

The following places will sell the tickets on sale this early is to give the fans plenty of opportunity for getting the tickets ahead of time and avoiding the rush.

Gordon Saturday.
The next game the Crackers will play in Atlanta will be with the Camp Gordon aggregation next Saturday afternoon.

There is a possibility that a game will be played with the federal prison team next Sunday at the penitentiary grounds. The Atlanta Shoe company, Alabama street, will furnish the motor transportation to take the Crackers to and from the grounds.

ATHLETICS ON BOOM
AT FORT McPHERSON

Athletics for all men to the end that they may be better fitted for overseas duty that is the aim of many of the various hospital units located at Fort McPherson.

In accordance with this idea many of the larger units, notably the Chicago, Kansas City and Minneapolis organizations are planning programs of baseball, track and soccer for the weeks of months remaining between now and the time they sail for France.

While the first real event of the athletic program, a big tri-city track meet, was staged last week, there is a regular schedule this week consisting of a baseball game on Wednesday between Chicago base hospital unit, No. 13, and Kansas City base hospital unit, No. 28.

BILLY MISKE WINS
TECHNICAL KNOCKOUT
OVER TOM COWLER

Minneapolis, Minn., April 8.—Billy Miske, of St. Paul, won a technical knockout over Tom Cowler, English heavyweight, in the seventh round of a scheduled ten-round no-decision here tonight. After the English boxer had been knocked down twice for the count of nine the referee stopped the fight to save Cowler from further punishment.

Miske outclassed his heavier opponent, taking every round except the third, which was even. The St. Paul lad carried the fighting to the Briton, and had the better of clinches and in-fighting. Miske landed a left swing to the face and right hook to the body repeatedly.

Cowler weighed 210, Miske 175.

The physical statistics of Billy Miske, the sensational St. Paul light heavyweight, and Edward J. Smith, the famous "Gunboat" of ring fame, are all the more interesting in view of the fact that they are in for a real treat when these two boys lock horns at Thursday night.

There is little to choose in their physical proportions, and their ring record for 1917, taken from the record books, show that both have met all the best men in the light heavy and heavyweight divisions, with about equal success.

Miske lost one bout in 1917 to Kid Norfolk, the negro heavyweight of Boston, the decision being a close one. Smith was stopped by Fred Fulton after seven rounds of fierce battling at Minneapolis.

The bout, therefore, develops into an elimination of the heavyweights. Miske's chances in the heavyweight division with those of Fred Fulton. It will also be Smith's chance to stage a comeback, and with so much at stake for both boys, Atlanta fans are in for a real slugfest.

They Compare.
The physical proportions of the two boys produces an interesting study for the boxing fans of the city. These statistics are furnished by their managers, and are as follows:

HERZOG IS IN BAD
WITH GOTHAM FANS

Charlie Herzog, the once popular idol of the New York fans, has taken a decided drop in the estimation of his former admirers in the big city.

Herzog has made good his threat to sue the Giants for back salary, and his attorney has filed papers demanding $800, which the player says is due him for the time he was under suspension last summer.

Herzog, it will be recalled, left the Giants without securing McGraw's permission, giving as a reason that he needed a rest in order to fit himself for the world's series.

At that time Herzog stated that he would not ask a dollar for the time he was absent, but evidently he has changed his mind.

HEIGHT—Smith, 6 feet 1; Miske, 5 feet 11.
WEIGHT—Smith, 175; Miske, 175.
REACH—Smith, 72; Miske, 76.
CHEST—Smith, 44; Miske, 42.
WAIST—Smith, 34; Miske, 34.
AGE—Smith, 31; Miske, 24.

It will be seen from the above that there is little to choose. Miske has the advantage of four inches in reach and seven years in age, but Smith's greater experience will offset the advantage of youth.

Their Records.
The record books show the 1917 records of all the boxers showing the following results of bouts in which the two boxers engaged during last year.

Billy Miske.
Jan. 1—K. O. Brown, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
Jan. 12—Charles Weinert, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
Jan. 15—Jack Dillon, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
Feb. 27—Battling Levinsky, No. dc. St. Paul, 10.
July 24—Joe Bonds, K. Brooklyn, 3.
Sept. 19—Bert Kenney, No. dc. Brooklyn, 10.
Sept. 28—Carl Morris, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
October 2—Charles Weinert, No. dc. Brooklyn, 10.

Gambot Smith.
Jan. 1—Battling Levinsky, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
Jan. 12—Jack Moran, D. St. Louis, 12.
Feb. 2—Joe Borrell, No. dc. Philadelphia, 6.
Feb. 16—Jack Dillon, D. New Orleans, 20.
May 28—Bob McAllister, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
June 4—Jack Clifford, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
Aug. 3—Kid Norfolk, No. dc. Buffalo, 10.
Aug. 10—Bill Tate, No. dc. N. Y., 10.
Aug. 20—Kid Norfolk, No. dc. Rochester, 10.

It will be seen from the above that the two boys have boxed such common opponents as Battling Levinsky, Jack Dillon and Kid Norfolk, while Smith in addition boxed Jack Dempsey and Fred Fulton.

Tickets Going Fast.
Tickets are going fast at the advance ticket sale at Chess place on Edgewood avenue. A special ticket man is on the job there, with a chart showing the location of every seat, and the fans can see just what seat they are getting at the time of purchase.

The price of seats is $1.10, $1.20, $2.75 and $3.30. These prices include the war tax. Every seat but the $1.10 tickets.

The preliminaries will be announced tomorrow. It is probable that Battling Budd and Jimmie Miller will appear in the 10-round semi-windup and Jack Harris and Frankie Mullen in the 15-round main event.

Billy Haack will again be the referee, assuring the fight fans that they will get what they want by "the action" of action. Dick Jensen will again be the announcer.

The card will start promptly at 8 o'clock and everything will be run off promptly.

The main bout boys will leave for Atlanta today, arriving here Wednesday afternoon or night.

ALABAMA'S STAR
TWIRLER REJOINS
BASEBALL SQUAD

University, Ala., April 8.—(Special.)—Merrett Wike, the little star slambang of last year's team, appeared on the diamond here yesterday afternoon in uniform and took a light workout.

Wike's presence on the diamond, with his former strength, lost through sickness and that he will get into baseball condition soon gives crimson stock a considerable boost.

Wike was in school the first half of the year and would have been one of the first to take a practice workout here some weeks ago but for sickness which necessitated an operation and his absence from school since about mid-term. Somewhat unexpectedly he appeared on the campus this week and the winning Alabama apply defeat to Illinois.

Because of his condition Wike cannot get into form for the game now on the cards, but it is hoped that he will be ready to go to the box against the opponents of Alabama before very long. The short workout he indulged in Friday afternoon showed that he has the physical control and strength, although he is not yet in condition he can put the apple almost exactly where he wishes.

All last season the team supported him in good style and the little pitcher, three times the diamond with speed and control. Should he return to his old condition, he and Lena Williams, who caught him last year, should form a combination unbeatable in southern college baseball, and in all probability both will make All-Southern.

Oh, You Mustaches.
Catcher John Henry and Infielder Red Smith, of the Braves, are creating a sensation every day. No, it's not their playing. They are both sporting mustaches and what's more they threaten to come to town with them.

DOLLY STARK TO TRY GAME AGAIN
AS A CHICKASAW

Memphis, Tenn., April 8.—(Special.)—Dolly Stark, a most familiar figure, has been called to the call of the diamond and returned to the field of the Southern league as a Chickasaw. Stark will join the tribe of Chief Barger tomorrow at Rushwood Park.

While Dolly becomes a full-fledged Tribesman depends on how his lame back, which troubled him last season, responds to training. If Dolly comes around all right, it is the intent of Barger to carry him as utility Tribesman.

Stark started as manager of the Memphis team in 1916, but finished the season with San Antonio. Last season he played away with the Los Angeles and Mobile, but was forced to retire about the middle of the season on account of an injured back.

SALES OF W. S. S.
IN CARTERSVILLE
TOUCH HIGH MARK

Cartersville, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—As the result of a well-planned three-day drive, under the direction of James W. Knight, county chairman, and a thrift stamp war savings committee, and Mrs. Paul F. Akin, county chairman of the Women's Committee of the Council of National Defense, Cartersville and Bartow county "went over" this afternoon with a bang.

The campaign actually opened Wednesday morning. Prior to that day, committees were appointed to make the arrangements, and Paul F. Akin, one of the city's leading attorneys, was chosen captain of the "Red Guard," and Harris Cole, now one of the county's leading miners, but formerly captain of the Sumner county team, was chosen leader for the Blues.

The "Red Guard" secured the most subscriptions, their total being $30,700, while the Blues were not far behind, with subscriptions aggregating $21,580.

Major Screws Speaks.
Friday was the banner day of the campaign, and much enthusiasm was created by the presence of the band from the 82nd artillery, and an address delivered by Major W. W. Screws, of the 82nd artillery, U. S. A.

In his characteristic style, Major Screws brought home to his hearers the reality of this war, and the absolute necessity of making good the war effort. He said the situation had now reached that stage where the American soldier must be able to stand up to the enemy alone and without help from the Teuton tide, or before help comes.

Among the larger purchases reported during the day were: Thompson-Weinman Mining company, $3,000; Frank's Mining company, $600; Southern Lumber company, $2,000; American Textile company, $500.

The little village of Taylorville subscribed to $3,250 worth of thrift stamps and war savings certificates as a result of an hour's canvass, while Emerson, another hustling hamlet of Bartow county, has disposed of nearly $5,000 worth since the campaign opened several days ago over the county.

County Commissioner N. A. White reported that he had used the funds sent him anonymously several weeks ago by adding enough to buy $500 worth of war savings certificates. No claimant has appeared for the money sent in to the county commissioners, and Mr. White could think of no better disposition to make of the fund sent him by the unknown party.

The Cartersville lodge of Masons purchased $100 worth of thrift stamps, while the Royal Arch Chapter of Cartersville Masons also made a similar purchase. The total for the day was $100,000.

AL SIHAH TEMPLE STAGE CEREMONIAL

Arrival of Yaarab Temple Big Event of Morning at Macon Ceremonial.

Macon, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—Announcement was made tonight that the Shriners gathered here today for the ceremonial had subscribed to $100,000 worth of bonds of the third Liberty Loan.

Macon, Ga., April 8.—(Special.)—With Shriners representing a half dozen temples in the south in attendance, the members of the order made merry in Macon today, at the spring ceremonial of the Al Siha Temple, a patriotic event on the eve of the departure of the Dixie division for a week's hike.

Among the temples represented were: Yaarab, Atlanta; Allee, Savannah; Morocco, Jacksonville; Zamora, Birmingham; Alcazar, Montgomery, and from the south's newest temple, Egypt, from Tampa.

Red fezzes were everywhere on the streets today, from sunrise until midnight tonight, the festivities being brought to a close with a street dance on Cherry street. Because of the rain some of the day's program had to be postponed, among these being the parade of the Yaarab patrol band, rough riders and chasers, which had been scheduled for 8 o'clock. It took place two hours later, and served as a curtain-raiser for the street ball.

The big event of the morning was the arrival of Yaarab temple members from Atlanta. They came 100 strong, and were met at the terminal by the members and patrol of Al Siha Temple, who escorted them to Central City park, where the ceremonials of the day were staged in a big circus tent.

A big barbecue was enjoyed at noon by more than 2,000 Shriners. The patriotic ceremonial was held at 3:30 o'clock, and 100 candidates from points within a radius of 40 miles of Macon, including those from Camp Wheeler, were put through the degree. Early in the evening, the lobby of the Lanier hotel, and later the Atlanta Shriners staged their parade, which was the hit of the evening.

Preliminary to the street dance the patrol put on some of their drills. Three bands furnished music for the dancing.

George M. Napier, potentate of Yaarab temple, did not arrive in the city until tonight.

BROWN IN CHARGE OF PUBLIC HEALTH

ice, which is a part of the treasury department. Washington, has been represented by a local office in Atlanta since August, 1917, when Dr. R. M. Grimm, a past assistant surgeon, rank 44 as a captain, opened a small office, by the courtesy of the state, in the capitol. The campaign he started in Atlanta has grown with such rapidity that it now requires six large offices and a force of seven doctors and nine inspectors and office help to do the work.

Beginning with a campaign against mosquitoes around Camp Gordon, the service has taken up various health and sanitary problems, such as the inspection of restaurants and eating houses, inspection of soda fountains, barber shops, the treatment of social diseases, Atlanta has grown with such rapidity that it now requires six large offices and a force of seven doctors and nine inspectors and office help to do the work.

The personnel of the federal health service working in Atlanta is Dr. B. W. Brown, medical officer in charge; Dr. R. M. Grimm, Dr. W. Wythe, Dr. P. D. Mossman, Dr. W. L. Treadway, Dr. Percy Ahrens, Dr. W. A. Ellison, Dr. P. L. Rush and Dr. George Bote.

The offices are in the Rhodes building, where hundreds of people go every week to receive the anti-typhoid injections and smallpox vaccinations, which are dispensed free. Several thousand employees of restaurants, eating places and candy factories and stores have been inoculated with the serum.

The great parade of last Saturday in which 10,000 soldiers took part, and which was the opening gun in the campaign for the third Liberty Loan, has been screened and is being offered this week at the Forsyth theater.

All the features, which made it such a success, the floats, the different units and view after view of different companies of the 32nd regiment, which is one of the most popular organizations at Camp Gordon, are shown.

The big picture of the day at the Forsyth, which shows the reformation of a hardened and desperate outlaw through the refining influence of a woman. The bill is also greatly aided by a Mack Sennet comedy.

NEEDS OF WATERWORKS BOND ISSUE NECESSARY TO MAKE IMPROVEMENTS THERE AT Once, He Says.

Owing to the heavy rains that fell Monday the municipal bond meeting that was to have been held at the chamber of commerce did not materialize. However, a small number of citizens who had braved the downpour were present and the gathering was turned into a forum for the discussion of subjects that are important at this time when efforts are being put forth by all patriotic citizens to save the city from the ravages of the Hun.

W. Zode Smith, superintendent of the Atlanta waterworks, said in his fight against the Hun. He said that the waterworks department had been running at top speed, pumping the required amount of 25,000,000 gallons of water per day to the consumers, and indicated that should anything happen either at the Hemphill station or the Chattahoochee plant that would put one or more of the city pumps out of commission, the people would be compelled to go on short rations so far as water was concerned.

The waterworks superintendent urged the necessity of making the improvements on the city water plant that are contemplated in the expenditure of $500,000 of bond money to be raised by the proposed bond issue, and gave some interesting figures to show the increased cost of water in the city. He said that the cost of water in the city is now about 10 cents per 100 gallons, and that it would be 15 cents per 100 gallons if the improvements were not made.

Mr. Smith said that for the past thirty days every available piece of machinery in the city has been running at top speed, pumping the required amount of 25,000,000 gallons of water per day to the consumers, and indicated that should anything happen either at the Hemphill station or the Chattahoochee plant that would put one or more of the city pumps out of commission, the people would be compelled to go on short rations so far as water was concerned.

"The Spoilers."

The greatest fight scene ever filmed, and one of the greatest in the history of fiction, is the battle between the young miner, who had been robbed of his claim, and the giant lawyer, who had been the leader in the theft of the gold mine, is the story of "The Spoilers." The story is written by Rex Beach. This Alaskan play has everything in it that is essential to stage and to screen success. There is not an element missing. It will be seen again today and tomorrow.

"TARZAN OF THE APES" TO BE SEEN NEXT WEEK

A keenly anticipated public is awaiting the opening of the new feature "Tarzan of the Apes," which will be seen at the Rialto all next week. The book and stories had more readers in this city, so the book store states, than any other fiction of the year, and anyone who reads them cannot help desiring to see the film production. It is without doubt the most unusual tale, the most gripping and the most sensational and startling in character of all the many tales of the jungle, and it is a story that has never been conceived. Some thousands of people are in the acting cast besides a list of famous stars and actresses, and the complete enough to supply several zoos with a complete collection.

Lowry goes to Ohio to bring Loeb back.

James I. Lowry, sheriff of Fulton county, left Atlanta last night for Youngstown, Ohio. He is making this little trip to get Sam Loeb, who is indicted in 15 cases for larceny from the house and in one case for larceny after trust. Loeb was indicted in 1914 for the theft of about $5,000 of material from the warehouse of F. S. Cox & Son, M. Cohen, father-in-law of Loeb, went on his bond for $3,000 at the time. The case was called, Loeb had disappeared and the bond was ordered forfeited. All efforts to collect the bond proved futile and brought out the fact that Cohen had gone into bankruptcy. Since that time Cox has been making every effort to locate Loeb, and he finally did so last week in Ohio. Loeb will be brought here today.

Daves Estate Worth Only About $23,000; Declares Anderson

Attorneys representing S. H. Venable, the executor of the will of the late Mrs. Alice E. Daves, which has been in litigation for a long time, differ radically from their opponents as to the meaning of the verdict rendered by the jury last week, which set up the will, but set aside the codicil, on the ground that it was executed as the result of "undue influence."

James L. Anderson, one of Mr. Venable's attorneys, asserts that the property affected by the verdict is worth on the market today only about $23,000, and that charges against the estate, including $8,000 paid to Dr. Daves, by way of compromise settlement, would largely consume or eat up this. He states that the caveators in whose interest the jury set aside the codicil were not heirs of Mrs. Daves, as stated in recent newspaper accounts, but were a niece and two nephews of Mrs. Daves, Alice Kate Clark, Henry W. Clark and Albert A. Clark, Jr., who will take, under the original will, if one-third of what remains after paying special legacies, charges on the estate and expenses.

Mr. Anderson says that the wildest flight of imagination does not justify the statement in the newspapers that the Daves estate is worth $150,000, even if Mrs. Daves' home place is included in the estimate, and that the Bolton place was deeded by Mrs. Daves some time before her death, by deed which will stand every test, to her nephew and niece, Charlie Collins and Mrs. Maude Collins Ingels. Mr. Anderson stated further that the verdict in his opinion, could not stand.
